Motorists' fear over erosion of markings

COMMUTERS and residents have voiced concerns over the wearing away of road markings on a busy island near Great Wyrley.

The lack of proper stop and give way signs at an island where the A5 and A34 trunk roads meet has caused a number of accidents and near misses for motorists who regularly use the route.

Carl Stephenson, aged 35, of Great Wyrley, uses the island regularly and expressed his concerns.

He said: "If you're from the area you will know the road markings are practically non-existent and make it impossible for people to know where to go when they approach the island and in some instances even where to stop and give way."

Addressed

"In my opinion this is highly dangerous and should be addressed."

The road is managed by the Staffordshire Highways. A spokesman said: "The Highways Agency has carried out a survey to assess the condition of the white lining on the A5 through the Churchbridge roundabout complex."

"The survey has highlighted no issues with the markings on the roundabouts but the give way markings at both will be refreshed as part of our routine maintenance over the coming weeks."

Good causes in award bid

To nominate a project before March 19, visit www.nationallotteryawards.org.uk or call 0207 293 3599.

'WORST CRISIS EVER KNOWN'

THE full scale of appalling failings at Stafford Hospital has been laid bare. Hundreds of patients died as nurses provided woefully inadequate standards of care and bosses focused on hitting management targets.

by Daniel Wainwright

Many of the patients died in pain, with harrowing accounts of people being denied access to water and left lying in squalor – some even having to clean the toilets themselves.

Yesterday (Wednesday), the chairman of the inquiry, Robert Francis QC, revealed his findings. He described the scandal as a "disaster" and added: "There was a lack of care, compassion, humanity and leadership."

The report provides a shocking indictment of staff across the board at the hospital – from senior managers to nursing and care staff on the wards.

Prime Minister David Cameron said patients had been "betrayed" and personally apologised to families who lost their loved ones because failings at the hospital had been allowed to continue for so long.

The findings of the landmark £10 million inquiry into the hospital concluded it was "the worst crisis a district general hospital in the NHS can have ever known".

Leadership

Campaigners who kick-started exposure of the scandal at the hospital called for the resignation of NHS chief executive Sir David Nicholson on the back of the report.

Julie Bailey, who set up Cure the NHS after her 86-year-old mother Bella Bailey died at Stafford Hospital in 2007, said: "We are looking for leadership skills and the man at the top of the NHS has not got the leadership skills."

The report into the hospital, where between 400 and 1,200 people died between 2005 and 2009 because of poor care, revealed managers were trying to cut costs so it could win coveted 'foundation' status.

The probe found the hospital was "deprived of a proper level" of nurses to make its finances look healthier, leading to a "completely inadequate standard of nursing".

The 1,781-page, three-volume report comes following a 139-day inquiry in which staff past and present, politicians, unions, patients' families and medical professionals attended. It found:

- Managers had "no culture" of listening to patients
- Board members "failed to get a grip" on accountability
- An "unacceptable delay" in addressing the issue of nurse shortages
- Too great a degree of "tolerance" of poor standards and risk to patients
- Patients were left for hours with food and drink out of reach.

The report said there had been a "failure of communication" between different agencies to share their knowledge of concerns.

It said assumptions were made that monitoring or intervening was the "responsibility of someone else".

Leaders were accused of failing to appreciate the enormity of what was happening.

A string of clinical blunders including bad operations were also identified, and the report revealed misdiagnoses and drugs either not given or given too late.

The report makes 290 recommendations, which have implications for the entire NHS. They include making individuals responsible for what they do rather than just the health trust, better training for nurses and managers and a statutory duty of "candour" requiring trusts to be honest with patients if things have gone wrong. The recommendations also call for a "single regulator".

Mr Cameron was to announce the creation of a new chief inspector of hospitals who will be responsible for making sure they are delivering good care not just trying to meet targets.

He said: "Hundreds of people suffered from the most appalling neglect and mistreatment. There were patients so desperate for water that they were drinking from dirty flower vases."

"Relatives were ignored or even reproached when pointing out the most basic things which could have saved their loved ones from horrific pain or even death."

"We can only begin to imagine the suffering endured by those whose trust in our health system was betrayed at their most vulnerable moment."

Fuel taken as thieves drill into cars' tanks

THIEVES have stolen petrol by drilling through fuel tanks of cars parked in Penkridge. The offenders have targeted villagers living on the Grange Estate.

Mother-of-two, Helen Hill, who lives on Wolverhampton Road, was one of the victims in the early hours of Tuesday.

She said: "Thieves drilled into the fuel tank underneath my car and drained it of petrol. When I got into the car in the morning, I saw the fuel indicator had gone down and there was a strong smell of petrol. I broke down on my way to work."

Garage

"Two ladies helped push me out of the way. I had to be towed to the garage. I've been told I need a new fuel tank which will cost a couple of hundred pounds."

A petrol station in Wheaton Aston was closed as a safety precaution after a Ford Focus leaked fuel across the forecourt at 8.20am on Tuesday. The car's owner lives in Grange Road, Penkridge.

A Staffordshire Police spokesman said: "Officers are investigating reports of fuel theft from outside properties in Penkridge. How the petrol was retrieved from the vehicles is also subject of investigation."

Anyone with information should call 101 quoting incident 142 of February 5.

Teddy's still cutting it after 35 years

Teddy's Hair Design on Walsall Road, was opened by sisters Ruby Camp and Christine Smith-Toon.

Together the pair established a further three salons in Stafford, Bloxwich and Wolverhampton before selling up and keeping the latter and the Cannock shop.

They marked the occasion last Saturday with cake, champagne and gift tokens.

Mrs Smith-Toon said: "We have always worked really hard to keep the business going. We employ six members of staff at the Cannock salon and they all do a great job."

"We didn't even think about reaching this milestone when we first opened - you don't when you're 21. We are just so grateful to our regular customers and to the new faces that come through the door."

The salon was in danger of moving after an application was submitted for a bowling alley to be built in its place. But after the plans fell apart, the owners were told they could stay put.

Mrs Camp added: "We are staying where we are and we're all looking forward to the years ahead."

Staff at Teddys hairdressers in Cannock celebrate the salon's 35th birthday

Health chiefs facing a £6m budget shortfall

HEALTH bosses in Cannock Chase are facing a £6 million shortfall in their budget when the new GP commissioning consortium takes over from the primary care trust in April.

They plan to make savings by giving patients the technology to manage their conditions at home.

Fire crew is shortlisted for award at ceremony

A CREW from Cannock has been shortlisted for honours at Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service's sixth annual MORE! awards.

The awards recognise the outstanding achievements of fire service staff and local businesses and will be held at the Stafford County Showground on March 7.

The Cannock TRV (Targeted Response Vehicle) crew is up for the Fire Service Champions Award category for its pro-active work in the community.

Awards could also go to firefighters Tim Collins and Russ Brown. Mr Collis has been shortlisted in the Innovation and Improvement category for his work on animal rescue procedures, equipment and training.

Mr Brown could strike twice following nominations for the Innovation and Improvement Award and the Service to the Community Award, the latter to recognise his work with the StreetStadia sports project.

County councillor Phil Jones, who represents Hednesford and Rawsley, could win the Sonja Outley Award for Member Involvement in the Community for his support with fire service events in Cannock last year.

They say this would avoid unnecessary hospital admissions which cost an average £2,500 per person.

Stafford also faces a £6m cut to its budget. Chief officer of the Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) Andrew Donald insists it will not mean a cut in services. He said money would be saved by making efficiencies.

But Councillor George Adamson, leader of Cannock Chase Council, has criticised the cut.

He said: "To be told to find savings of at least £6 million in its first year is hardly a good start for the new commissioning group."

"It's ludicrous that less money rather than more is going to be spent on health care for the people of Cannock Chase."

Device

Among planned efficiencies is a scheme to give patients a device to measure their own sats, or oxygen saturation levels, so they can check whether readings are normal.

Mr Donald said: "We're aiming at people with long-term conditions, such as respiratory problems and heart failure, which can adequately be managed from home. It's about empowering people to look after themselves better," he said.

The new CCG's budget is £150m. The combined budget for Cannock Chase and Stafford is £304m.

The Cannock Chase CCG will commission NHS-funded services for the district's 27 GP practices, taking over from PCTs.

Tasha tunes up for contest

Tasha Jerawan, aged 13, gets ready for the regional final of a singing competition

A TEENAGER from Cannock is aiming to hit the right note after reaching the regional final of a singing competition.

Tasha Blundell, who goes by the stage name Tasha Jerawan, is competing in the Teen Stars contest at Birmingham NEC on March 23. The contest has attracted more than 10,000 entrants nationwide.

The 13-year-old from Norton Canes, a pupil at Chase Terrace Technology College, is a fan of the likes of Jessie J and Adele and has been a keen singer for a number of years.

Father Steve, a 38-year-old engineer, said: "We are trying to get as many people as we can to go along."

"I am chuffed to bits with what she does at school and with her music."

Decision on move by firm deferred

PLANNERS have deferred a decision on a bid by a new business to take over a disused industrial site in Norton Canes.

Vehicle cleaning products supplier Autosmart wants to move into the old Durapipes Glynwed Plastics site, in Walsall Road in a move that would create 15 jobs.

The land has been empty for around 12 months and would store car valeting products and equipment.

But residents are upset that the firm plans to widen the entrance to allow HGV traffic to pass each other on entering and leaving.

Autosmart said the wider access was included on the advice of county council highways officers. Planners have voted to defer the decision until after they have consulted highways experts. Those in favour argue the site will not be as busy under Autosmart which anticipates five HGV deliveries and five departures a day and only one or two visitors.

Councillor Zaphne Stretton, who lives opposite, told Cannock Chase's planning committee that nearby residents had not suffered any problems under Durapipes' 20-year time there.

Talent to be showcased

VILLAGERS can showcase their skills in a Great Wyrley Carnival's Got Talent competition next month.

Organised by Great Wyrley Carnival Committee it takes place at the Performing Arts High School, Hall Lane, on Saturday, March 9 from 7pm. Entrance is £3.

It is open to all Great Wyrley, Cheslyn Hay and Landwood residents. First prize is £100, with £50 to the runner-up and £20 to third place. There is also a young winner's prize and the chance to perform at Great Wyrley Carnival on June 29.

Application forms are available on 01922 414647

Driver cut free

MOTORISTS were delayed as a driver was freed from his car after it hit a tree in Rugeley, partially blocking the road. Firefighters freed the driver following the collision at 7.10am last Thursday (January 31) on the A460 Hednesford Road, near the junction with Cardigan Road.

Quiz buff is beaten by clock

COMEDIAN David St John crowned his 28th gameshow appearance by finishing runner-up – but got the chance to trade impressions with TV star Rory Bremner along the way.

David, of Cannock, has been appearing on quiz shows for the past 30 years and his latest, Face The Clock, was screened on Tuesday on Channel Four.

Contestants answer questions against the clock. They can't see how long they have left but play stops when the time runs out.

David missed out to his rival by just one second. "I would have won the money too if I'd been in the final because I knew the answer to the questions," said the 64-year-old.

But David, who performs comedy acts and songs on the club scene, added: "It was great fun and there was just one second in it."

The show is hosted by Rory Bremner and David said: "He was a very down to earth guy. We traded a few impressions. I did some Prince Charles for him and a bit of Nelson Mandela, which he seemed to like."

The comedian is now looking for his next challenge and aims to go on 30 shows.

MP supports marriage Bill

PRIME Minister David Cameron said the vote on same-sex marriage in England and Wales was "an important step forward".

MPs voted in favour of the Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Bill by 400 to 175 but 136 Tory MPs opposed the Bill.

Both Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley and Lichfield's Michael Fabricant voted in favour. Mr Burley said he believed in equality, adding: "Marriage promotes stability in loving relationships and gives people more choice."

Gaming session

A WARHAMMER gaming club is on offer at Penkridge Library during the half-term break. Craft sessions are also on offer to keep youngsters entertained throughout the area. # Schools' funding will help pupils catch up

SECONDARY schools are to receive £500 per child to run catch-up lessons for Year 7 pupils who were found to be falling behind in literacy and maths when they finished their primary school education.

Some 45 schools in Staffordshire, the Black Country and Wyre Forest will receive a share of the £54.5 million Government funding pot.

The so-called catch up premium will be used to provide intensive tuition for almost 110,000 pupils who have failed to reach the expected levels.

Fair Oak Academy will receive £11,500 of funding, with £14,500 being handed to Hagley Park Academy, Staffordshire University Academy in Hednesford will receive £12,000, while £17,000 will go to Cannock Chase High. The share for Erasmus Darwin Academy in Burntwood will amount to £15,500. Schools will be able to decide how they use the money.

Mr Barrie Scott, headteacher at Cannock Chase High School, said: "We already put on a range of activities to help children who are falling behind, but the catch-up premium will certainly help. The money has enabled us to advertise for a specialist English and maths teacher to work with our youngsters. A lot of people in Cannock cannot afford to pay for private tuition, but this scheme allows us to give our pupils the extra help they need."

Combined

It will help those who failed to reach at least level 4 by Key Stage 2, at the end of primary school.

Schools in the region will receive a combined total of £832,500.

Figures from the Department for Education show that only five per cent of pupils who did not manage to get Level 4 in both English and maths at Key Stage 2 went on to achieve five GCSEs at A* to C, including English and maths.

The latest funding is to help children catch up to the target level by covering the costs of individual tuition or intensive support. Government ministers claim the extra help can have benefits by curbing disruptive behaviour from children who lack motivation.

Deputy Prime Minister Nick Clegg said: "Every child should have the chance to succeed and get off on the right foot."

Extra jobs as expansion to trekking centre approved

AN expansion of Cannock Chase Trekking Centre to help cope with record visitor numbers has been given the go-ahead.

A new visitor centre will be built along with new stables at the popular horse riding and trekking centre based off the main A34.

The scheme, which will also create two jobs, was approved by members of South Staffordshire Council at a meeting this week.

The centre, which has been operating for 17 years. There are currently 44 horses at the stables for trekking activities across beauty spots on the Chase.

Demolished

It is also used by schools and colleges for organised trips as well as offering students work experience.

As part of the work the existing stable is being demolished and replaced with an American barn-style building for 46 stables, tack storage, medical store and drying room.

The new visitor's centre will include a meeting room, outdoor viewing area, toilets, medical room, kitchen and office area.

The site currently has a mix of six full and part time staff and the scheme will create two full-time posts.

The application was put forward last year after owners had received a record 17,000 visitors within 12 months.

It lies within green belt but no objections were lodged by Natural England or ramblers groups.

Councillor Jeff Ashley raised concerns about the size of the buildings on the site and their long-term presence if the centre was to ever finish.

But he said he broadly supported the centre's plans, adding: "For someone to go into this private enterprise in these difficult economic times has to be applauded."

Money made available for businesses to grow

CANNOCK businesses are being encouraged to expand with the help of schemes developed in the rest of the West Midlands.

Thousands of pounds worth of investment money is being made available by Greater Birmingham & Solihull Local Enterprise Partnership (GBSLEP) to help Cannock firms expand and create more jobs.

Large and small business will be able to access different grants to enable their company to grow starting from £1million under the Regional Growth Fund to £10,000 from the Business Development Programme.

Love is a meal at hotel

LOVE will be in the air at a Penkridge hotel and restaurant on Valentine's Day as couples can combine fine dining with helping out charity.

The Bridgehouse, at Stonecross, will be raising funds for The British Heart Foundation on the evening of February 14. For every meal sold on the special night £1 will be donated to the charity.

Raj Dhandra, who runs The Bridgehouse with his wife Lomi, said: "Valentine's Day is an important night for couple's and we always like to make people feel very special at The Bridgehouse."

"We like to try and raise money for charity during special occasions throughout the year and Valentine's Day is no different."

"Valentine's Day has the theme of love and hearts so I couldn't think of any better charity to donate money to than the British Heart Foundation. For every meal sold we will be donating £1 to the charity."

Diners can choose from either a two-course meal for £13.95 or three courses for £16.95. To make a booking ring 01785 714426.

The restaurant can seat up to 80 people.

Partners launch action on abuse

CANNOCK Chase Council has joined forces with Staffordshire Police, Staffordshire Women's Aid and Arch to clamp down on domestic violence across the district.

With Valentine's Day approaching, the organisations, working under the banner of the Community Safety Partnership, aim to reduce instances of domestic and sexual violence and are encouraging male and female victims to come report abuse.

Fosters and helpcards will be available to download from the council's website, www.cannockchase.dv.gov.uk/itsneverok and regular safety messages will be promoted using various forms of social media.

Female victims are being urged to contact Staffordshire Women's Aid on 0870 2700 123. Male victims should call Arch on 01782 683702.

Signs go down after no consent

SIGNS put up at the former Greenwood Care Home in Burntwood have been taken down just weeks after being erected at a cost of £1,162.

The signs, erected by the county council, referred to the new Burntwood health centre due to be built on the site. However, they were put up without planning consent and have now been taken down.

Councillor Steve Norman said: "They were put up for political purposes and taken down out of embarrassment – apparently by volunteers as taking them down cost nothing."

Death followed hospital release

A WOMAN released from Stafford Hospital after a successful operation died days later due to lack of mobility, an inquest heard. Marjorie Jackson, 78, of Sankey Road, Cannock, was treated for a bowel obstruction but died on May 3 – two days after going home – from a blood clot in a main artery.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

THE INTERNET is a great blessing but, like all great technological leaps forward it brings its fair share of crooks. Home Office minister Jeremy Browne claims that cyber-crime, coupled with mass immigration, has created an estimated 7,500 crime gangs. Some days it feels like more, doesn't it? A tidal wave of casual crime has crept up on us from nowhere. There was a time, not so long ago, when the average law-abiding British citizen might encounter a conman once or possibly twice in a lifetime. Now, the phone rings three or four times a day with dodgy offers from criminals who want to take your money off you.

A READER has been bending my ear on the subject of what was once called gay marriage, then same-sex marriage and now appears to be known as "equal marriage." He declares zealously: "The people who oppose equal marriage hold rather a low opinion of some of their fellow humans." In other words, the only possible reason for opposing it is that you hate gays. Quite how he squares this with the views of many gays who oppose equal marriage is not explained. But for the record, the latest thinking from Government lawyers in Whitehall is that equal marriage will require no act of consummation, and adultery will not be grounds for divorce – unless the adultery is with someone of the opposite sex. In what way is that equal? In what way is that marriage?

A READER writes: "I do not understand the controversy about same-sex marriage. When you've been married long enough, the sex is the same."

□□□□□□□□

FOLLOWING my item on the metrication of snowfall, a reader asks: How big does a snowdrift have to be before it turns from millimetres into feet? Good question. I believe the changeover happens at about 2ft. In much the same way, the temperature these days is measured in Centigrade until it hits about 22 when, for no apparent reason, everything turns into Fahrenheit and we're suddenly in the Sizzling Seventies.

□□□□□□□□

A READER laments all this metric nonsense and longs for the days when we enjoyed imperial simplicity. "It was so easy," he recalls. "There were 12 inches in a foot, and 12 pence in a shilling. Therefore 100 pennies equalled 8ft 4ins and 90 inches was seven and sixpence." Ah, blissful days.

HUNDREDS of British troops are going to help out our old friends the French with their post-imperial troubles in Mali. Do not take comfort from Mr Cameron's pledge that our troops will be trainers, not fighters. Most British deaths in Afghanistan over the past two years have been "green-on-blue" killings by the very Afghan soldiers and police we are supposed to be training.

□□□□□□□□

AND don't mistake bad news for good news. The headline: "Timbuktu falls without a shot fired" could also read: "Islamist guerrillas slip away with vehicles and weapons intact".

□□□□□□□□

A READER catching up on past episodes of Homeland (C4) noticed the title sequences referred to "The George Bush Centre of Intelligence." Are we all smiling?

Census shows rise in number born abroad

THE number of people living in Staffordshire who were born abroad has risen over the past 10 years, newly released data in the Census reveals.

The data – released by the Office for National Statistics – show the number of people in Cannock that were born in another country went up by 14 per cent from 1,013, or 1.1 per cent of the population, to 1,164 or 1.2 per cent. In South Staffordshire as a whole, the number rose by nearly a third from 1,398, or 1.32 per cent of the population, to 1,842, or 1.7 per cent.

The figure increased most sharply in Stafford, where it rose by 65 per cent from 2001 to 2010.

Figures also show the number of Christians in Cannock fell from 80.78 per cent to 69.1 per cent, while the number of households with dependant children and no adults in work stands at 4.1 per cent in Cannock, down from 4.39 and 2.3 per cent in South Staffordshire, falling from 2.69. This is compares with 4.2 per cent across the country.

In South Staffordshire 24 per cent of people over 16 have no qualifications – down from 29.61 per cent. In Cannock that figure dropped from 34.93 per cent to 28.2 per cent. The number of married people has rocketed. In South Staffordshire there are now 49,737 married people – a 4,837 increase – and in Cannock the number increased from 34,264 to 39,036.

Across the country, there were four million fewer Christians in England and Wales than 10 years earlier.

Date for three-day festival revealed

PLANS have been announced for this year's Burntwood Wakes Festival after last year's three-day event was washed out.

The 2013 festival takes place from July 19 to 21 and entry is free.

The opening night, Friday, will feature live music from Abba tribute band Swede Dreamz, supported by Beatles copycat act The Beatles.

Saturday afternoon will see a family fun day with a host of activities and attractions on offer for all ages.

Finale

The day will also feature the Burntwood Wakes Festival Proms, performed by the Staffordshire Festival Orchestra, culminating with a fireworks finale, weather permitting.

A folk concert will bring the festival to a close on the Sunday afternoon, featuring performances by the A.F.T. Band and The Staffordshire Men among others.

Last year's event was cancelled due to bad weather, although Burntwood Town Council recently noted that a successful insurance claim had resulted in a "minimal cost being borne by the council".

Declare love for the bus

PUBLIC transport users across Cannock Chase have been urged to declare their love for the bus this Valentine's Day.

Arriva Midlands has launched its 'Love the Bus' appeal. It is asking users to send in love letters, songs and poems, with the most creative receiving an annual saver worth almost £600.

Second prize is a six-month saver, and one runner-up will receive a box of chocolates and a bottle of champagne.

To enter, visit www.arriavabus.co.uk/do-you-love-the-bus/ for more details.

Donate blood

DONORS are invited to roll up their sleeves next week. Volunteers can give blood at the civic suite, Beecroft Road, Cannock, on Monday, February 11 and at the Memorial Hall, Rugeley Road, Burntwood, on Friday, February 15. To make an appointment call 0300 123 23 23.

Former care home site could become surgery

A NEW doctor's surgery, pharmacy and cafe could be built on the site of a former care home in Cannock.

Staffordshire County Council wants to redevelop the old Langbourn House site in Longford Road. As part of the scheme, 63 extra care residential apartments and 14 three-bedroom homes aimed at the over 55s will also be built.

by Laura Blyth

Plans have been submitted to Cannock Chase Council by Staffordshire County Council, which owns the site. A final decision is likely to be made in the next few months.

Cannock Chase Council's cabinet member for health, Councillor Muriel Davis said: "This is something we badly need."

Pharmacy

The scheme includes demolishing former care homes Hillcroft House and Ivy House. Both Hillcroft, which is adjacent to Langbourn, and Ivy House, had closed down several years before.

A new building will be created that will house the GP surgery, pharmacy, hair salon, cafe and extra care living accommodation. The homes will be separate.

Langbourn House was closed down controversially in 2007 under the old Labour administration at Staffordshire County Council. It was axed alongside a number of other residential care homes across the county as the county council looked to cut costs.

Langbourn House was then demolished last year after it became an eyesore, as well as a haven for anti-social behaviour and metal thefts.

In November, the county council asked people in Cannock for their views on the new facilities for older people at the site. Several public consultation events were held.

The county council will be working with Wrekin Housing Trust and development firm Galliford Try.

County Councillor Liz Staples, cabinet member for adult wellbeing, said: "It should be a really fantastic facility. Members of the community will also be able to access some of the facilities."

Pledge made on brook as villagers hit by flooding

LONG-suffering villagers will see years of misery end as flooding at a brook in Great Wyrley becomes a thing of the past. Severn Trent Water has vowed to take on responsibility for maintaining the stream and has also promised to look into similar problems in Codsall, Perton and Essington.

A solution was thrashed out at a meeting called by South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson with officers from the water authority and Staffordshire County Council. Residents have been demanding action on the brook for at least seven years. In 2006, the watercourse burst its banks, flooding neighbouring bungalows. People in Newbury Close called for a clean-up.

An ecological survey will be conducted at the balancing pool at the Sutherland open space.

Curtain up on recruitment bid

Members of the Backstreet Theatre Company are looking for new recruits to join up

A CANNOCK-based theatre company has launched an appeal for help to stage one of its biggest ever productions.

Backstreet Theatre Company wants new cast members and support to help raise the £8,000 it needs to stage Jekyll and Hyde at the Prince of Wales Centre in September.

The 20-strong group will even be trekking up Snowdonia in its bid to raise the cash.

Members have now launched an appeal for people aged 16 and over to join them. They are also appealing for businesses to sponsor the show, place adverts in the programme and book in gigs.

Jo Goulding, from the group, said: "All the lead roles have been cast but we need strong cast members to enhance the huge chorus numbers and nail the challenging harmonies."

Call Mrs Goulding on 07884 431346.

Diseased trees to be felled

A NUMBER of diseased trees are being removed from a Cannock nature reserve.

Cannock Chase Council has carried out a number of inspections on the beech trees within the Mill Green nature site. Those identified as having fungal decay or beech bark disease will be felled.

The trees lie along the embankment next to Cannock railway line and work will start on their removal this month.

A council spokesman said: "As many of these trees are infected it is necessary for the council to remove them."

Habitat

"Although they are not imminently dangerous their removal will allow for new healthy trees to be planted and developed."

The work should be completed by the end of March.

Deputy council leader Councillor Janos Toth, leader for the environment, said: "I would like to apologise for any inconvenience this causes to nearby residents."

"However, it is vital that the council undertakes the removal of these trees, so we can establish new healthier trees and attract new and existing wildlife to the area."

Forest news is welcomed

CANNOCK'S MP has welcomed news that publicly-owned forests in England will not be sold off.

There was outcry last year when plans were unveiled to sell off forests to businesses, communities and charities.

The public reaction prompted a Government U-turn and environment secretary Owen Paterson has now confirmed forests will remain in public ownership.

The Forestry Commission, which currently manages forests, will be given £3.5 million of extra funding this year to look after them.

Chase MP Aidan Burley said: "I was always convinced that the interests of Cannock Chase forest were best served by engagement with the panel."

Folk band plays

A POPULAR Cannock-based folk group will be performing a concert in Walsall in aid of a church restoration appeal. Chase Mist will be at Rushall Church on Saturday (February 9). Tickets on the door.

Prostitute guilty of businessman's murder

Killer Emma Bate

A PROSTITUTE from Cannock has been convicted of the murder of a Bridgnorth businessman.

Emma Bate, aged 26, was found guilty, along with her partner Paramjit Singh, of killing 57-year-old Richard Sherratt at his home on June 14 last year. The verdict was delivered by a jury at Stafford crown court last week.

The court heard Bate and Singh – who laughed, joked and sang after leaving their victim dying – were captured soon after on CCTV celebrating.

Drug-crazed prostitute Bate was seen waving her hands in the air in a macabre victory salute after using one of his bank cards at a cashpoint next to Handsworth Post Office. Twenty minutes later, she and her boyfriend Singh, aged 33, were kissing and cuddling in a lift at Osborne Tower, where she lived, in Gladstone Street, Aston, Birmingham.

Judge Simon Tonking told Bate that, when she and Singh appeared before him again on March 1, he was "bound" to be sentencing them to life imprisonment.

Bate denied murder but admitted robbing and defrauding the property developer, Singh, of Wilmore Road, Birmingham, admitted murder, robbery and fraud.

The court heard Bate lived in a chaotic world dominated by her craving for drugs – paid for by her life as a prostitute. She left school at 14, when she was already working on the streets of Walsall and addicted to heroin and crack.

At 15, she became pregnant and gave birth to a son, now aged nine, the following year. She says she stopped taking crack and heroin during her pregnancy and went into rehabilitation in Handsworth for a time. She managed only four weeks of her 12-week detoxification programme.

When her son was six months old, she moved him to live with relatives in Cannock, because she feared he might be taken into care.

When she was arrested, on June 16, she was spending £100 to £700 a day on crack cocaine. She maintained she could earn £3,000 a week as a prostitute, while also receiving benefits.

Council rulers press ahead with proposals on budget

CANNOCK Chase Council is ploughing ahead with its proposed budget for 2013/14 despite its own consultation survey finding some measures to be unpopular.

The council's cabinet considered the proposed budget last week and will recommend it to full council on February 13.

But a questionnaire circulated in January found that two of the five proposals received more opposition than support.

Nearly half of all respondents were against establishing a post jointly funded by the council and public health to handle health inequalities in the district at a cost of £25,000.

And 45.4 per cent disagreed with plans to pay £30,000 to employ an officer to provide support and advice to vulnerable people.

Council leader Councillor George Adamson said the authority had been forced to carry out its survey at short notice because of late notification from the government. Just 33 people participated.

Concerned

He said: "To some extent it does make the consultation redundant, but it's all down to the government."

But former district Councillor Graham Burnett said: "I am very concerned to hear that the consultation was conducted at short notice, when it's 'only' going to influence the council's spending policy for the next three years and is the only opportunity for residents to have their say this year."

The proposed budget also includes a two per cent council tax rise.

It follows funding cuts, which will force the council to reduce its spending by 7.4 per cent, and by a further 12.8 per cent in 2014/15. The combined reduction equates to £1.2million.

Staff threatened in village store raid

Police and emergency services outside the Co-Op in Cheslyn Hay following a raid at the Landywood Lane store

CASH and cigarettes were stolen in a raid on a village Co-Op store.

Staff were threatened as the robbers targeted the store off Landywood Lane, Cheslyn Hay, at 7am last Thursday (January 31).

A police cordon was put in place while investigations were carried out and an ambulance was also sent to treat a man in the store who was unconscious.

Staffordshire Police spokesman Sarah Davison said: "We were called to a report of a robbery at Co-Op, Landy-wood Lane, Cheslyn Hay, at around 7am.

"Offenders entered the store, threatened staff and stole a quantity of cash and cigarettes. They left the scene in a vehicle."

Commotion

A neighbour living in Landywood Lane, who did not want to be named, said: "I heard all the commotion."

"It's scary to think it's happening on my doorstep. I hope the guys who work there are ok."

It is the second time the store has been targeted. In April last year, two balaclava-wearing robbers raided it before escaping with a "large amount" of cash.

Two shoppers were in the store at the time.

In August, extra security guards and mobile patrol vans were deployed to Co-Op stores throughout the region following a string of armed raids.

Witnesses are asked to call Staffordshire Police on 101 or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Chiefs' praise on leisure response

COUNCIL chiefs have thanked residents for getting involved in consultations over plans for new sports and leisure facilities in Cannock.

A feasibility study will now be carried out into the proposals for the former Cannock Stadium site in Pye Green, which have been backed by members of the Cannock Chase District Council Cabinet.

A consultation saw more than 400 responses and Councillor Christine Mitchell, culture and sports chief, said: "It was great to see so many local people and community groups responding to our consultation."

MP is buoyed by apprenticeships

A RECORD number of people started apprenticeships in the last financial year – and the news was welcomed by Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley.

Some 1,160 people began apprenticeships in 2011-12 and Mr Burley said: "This is fantastic news for our country, for Cannock Chase, and the people whose lives are being transformed by the opportunities they offer."

School praised in Ofsted report

A HIGH school has been praised by Ofsted following a recent inspection.

Norton Canes High School in Burntwood Road was praised for the positive relationships between teachers and students.

Head Sara Birchall said: "Pupils are nurtured, enjoy coming to school and feel safe and happy."

Three hurt in car and van collision

THREE people were taken to hospital after a car overturned following a collision with a van in Cannock.

Emergency services were called to Broadhurst Green at around 9.30pm last Thursday (January 31) but no-one was believed to have been seriously injured.

History group talk

ROGER Francis will talk to Norton Canes Historical Society & Family History Group about Road Before Cars on Tuesday, February 12, from 7-9pm at the library, Burntwood Road. Admission is free.

Pals join the fundraising chain gang

Michael Fletcher and Marc Lee, from Handsacre, are taking part in a London to Paris 24-hour cycle ride for Scope. A PAIR of cycle-mad friends are gearing up for a 24-hour challenge to bike from London to Paris to raise charity cash. Michael Fletcher and Marc Lee, both aged 30, will pedal hundreds of miles in just a few hours for disability charity Scope. Mr Lee, from Handsacre, near Rugeley, is a company director of specialist furniture company, while Mr Fletcher is an HR business partner for Virgin Trains from Northampton. They have spent the last few months at rail stations across the country raising money for the charity. The two are continuing to train ahead of the challenge in July and hope to raise £2,400 in total. ### HS2 'devastating blow'

MORE than 100 people packed into a public meeting over the controversial second phase of HS2.

Details of the preferred route, will see high-speed trains cut a swathe through the Staffordshire countryside including parts of Rugeley, were labelled a "bolt out of the blue" and a "devastating blow".

Stone MP Bill Cash addressed the crowd at Swynnerton Park Cricket Club on Saturday (February 2), where queues spilled out of the door.

Landscape

Mr Cash said: "This is above all else about your daily lives. It's about your homes, your landscape, your properties, your families."

The MP said it was important to get a grasp on the analysis of the scheme in order to reinforce any arguments. "The bottom line is we are going to be fighting this one but it has to be well organised," he said.

Anti-HS2 campaigner Joe Rukin also urged people to form local action groups. Council bosses in Stafford have called for urgent talks with the company behind the scheme.

Aston Martin promise was weight loss drive

by Laura Blyth

THE prospect of a ride in an Aston Martin was the driving force behind a Hednesford mother-of-three's weight loss.

Anita Taylor always dreamed of test driving one of the luxury cars – but could not due to her weight.

So when her husband treated her to a driving experience in one of the cars as a Christmas gift it was the motivation needed to shed the pounds.

The 43-year-old lost more than six stone in 12 months, along with her friend Sue Thomas, who lost seven stone. Anita said: "I always wanted to be a Bond girl and made a comment one day about it to my husband. My dream was to drive an Aston Martin."

Scales

"For Christmas he bought me a driving experience in one. There was a weight limit though and I exceeded it so that motivated me."

She had curries, takeaways, chocolate and cakes before tipping the scales at 19st and wearing size 26 but now weighs 12st 7lbs and wears a size 14.

The clerical worker at Royal Wolverhampton Hospitals NHS Trust, said: "I was eating lots of curries, takeaways, chocolates and cakes. I now eat more fruit and vegetables and I've started running again."

Call centre operative Mrs Thomas decided to ditch the junk food almost two years ago after a difficult marriage break-up.

She wanted to do it for daughter Victoria, now 10. "I was so overweight," she said. "It had just gradually crept up over the years."

"I was drinking a lot of lager and

How Sue Thomas looked

eating too much chocolate, crisps and takeaways. I didn't like eating vegetables as a child and it just continued."

Mrs Thomas, 37, also of Hednesford, weighed 18st 7lbs but is now 11st 6lbs. She continued: "I had to completely change my diet and now I do exercise every day. I eat a lot of lean meats, chicken and vegetables.

Both attend Weight Watchers classes at the Avon Centre, Cannock.

LETTERS

Dog mess more and more of a problem

I AM writing in response to a letter on January 24 regarding the amount of dog mess.

I am also getting increasingly angry at the amount of dog mess along the school run I do on a daily basis, along Wolsley Road and through Rugeley cemetery.

Not one walk is done without a shout to the small children to "mind the dog mess!" It seems to be getting worse.

It's often right in the middle of the path and sometimes right outside the school gates. It is absolutely disgusting.

If a child treads in it on their way to school then they are treading it onto carpets where they sit and play. Do they people who do not pick up after their dogs realise it can cause blindness.

Please dog owners, think of the people with children and pushchairs, and pick up after your dog.

LAURA ROWSELL
Rugeley

Toilet scheme a waste of money

CANNOCK Council's community toilet scheme is, for me, a failure and absolute nonsense, totally wasting taxpayers' money.

The Labour cabinet is seriously considering putting in its budget for the next five years up to £70k to pay shopkeepers to allow us the courtesy to use their loos when we are desperate.

To add insult to injury, when local shops have recently applied to enter the scheme they have been refused or withdrawn on the grounds of a minefield of red tape. In Hednesford we have our new Tesco store followed soon by Aldi and shortly the excellent new Aquarius community facility re-opening. Surely these places will be able to easily fulfil the public need for spending a penny without wasting thousands elsewhere?

Such a scheme is indicative of the waste and financial mismanagement from our Labour-controlled council, who in the same budget proposal want to increase Council Tax by two per cent, having refused a Government grant that would help freeze it.

They have also had ample opportunity to implement smarter new ways to deliver better services in Cannock Chase that would achieve greater value for the taxpayer. They have even refused to consider sharing further services with other local councils.

GRAHAM BURNETT
Hednesford

A greater strain on finances

I HEAR the Council in Cannock has decided to increase Council Tax by two per cent - the maximum allowed - for the next year, then two per cent a year for the following two years, putting even more of a strain on the already squeezed budgets of ordinary working people.

I don't imagine there will be a two per cent a year improvement in the service I receive. It will just be another example of taxpayers getting less for more.

They could have opted to keep the Council Tax rate at its current level and taken a £60,000 bonus from the Government, but they went for the extra £50,000, without giving a second thought to the hardship it will cause the people who have to pay for it.

Central Government is reducing the tax burden for the lower paid worker while Cannock Council are grabbing back as much of it as they can get. Thanks for nothing!

Real threat comes from Government

I WOULD like to correct our MP's comments made about my letter of January 24. The Labour Party has organised two petitions relating to Cannock Hospital, neither was to do with the fear that the hospital would close, as indicated by Mr Burley. One was against the closure of A&E at Stafford Hospital and the most recent one was about the closure of the catering facilities at the Cannock site.

That is not to say that I am not worried about such an event taking place. On the contrary, I think we should fight as hard as we can to keep our hospital open within the NHS. However, I believe that Mr. Burley's ideas are an attempt to privatise our hospital by the back door. My advice to our MP would be to stick to the day job, and to save our hospital from his colleagues in Government. It is his Tory-led Government that are the real threat to our hospital.

COUNCILLOR JOHN KRAUJALIS
Cannock

Hospital must be saved

I RECENTLY read another report about our beleaguered Stafford Hospital. About 11 years ago I was admitted to Ward 11 in a coma with a complete renal failure, which obviously meant a lengthy stay.

In every way the staff gave their absolute all just to save my life. The back-up was faultless too, and still is.

Just before Christmas I was admitted to Ward 2 Acute Cardiac and again the staff were 100 per cent brilliant, from the surgeon to the porters and cleaners, and again all made the effort to make my stay an enjoyable and successful experience. On asking some of the staff their opinions, the fault lies with someone right at the top who wants to see it closed. This hospital must be saved.

Fun snow sculpture brought wry smile

THE recent period of snow and ice brought some difficulty to all of us, making the school run, the trip to work and the supermarket a bit more challenging than usual.

However, it did give one local artist the chance to make some of us smile. I refer to the huge phallus that was sculpted out of snow on the roundabout near Tesco in Heath Hayes. Standing proud at over a metre tall, sculpted in fine detail, it wasn't there late one night, but was there early the next morning.

But who was responsible? We could assume kids but the time and care taken tells me it was more likely to be a middle aged, world-weary executive, tired of life's monotony.

Of course, not all took it in the spirit of fun that it was meant as indicated by the tyre tracks where it was knocked down. To whoever is responsible for the sculpture, I will buy you a pint on behalf of all those who allowed themselves a naughty smile when they saw it.

JAMIE KING

From which planet?

WOULD councillor Neil Stanley please inform myself and the rest of his constituents what planet he actually lives on? On HS2, Councillor Stanley was quoted as saying: "I think it will be great for the district providing there is some station nearby and we benefit from it coming through our area." Can he actually believe a station will be built in the Staffordshire area so the residents can happily pop onto the HS2 for some retail therapy in Manchester?

Cabinet gives backing to stadium site sports plan

Help plea is served up

Susan Osborne, Edna Squire and Helen Millington from the Atharine House tea bar which runs from Cannock magistrates court

VOLUNTEERS are needed to help boost a tea room based at Cannock magistrates court.

The Katharine House Hospice tea bar has been operating for the past 10 years after the hospice took over its running from the Women's Royal Voluntary Service.

Refreshments are served entirely by volunteers, and all profits go to fund care for local people at the hospice and in the community. Volunteers would be required to give up just a few hours a month. Volunteer

Edna Squire, of Cannock, who has been at the tea shop for a decade said: "I love working here and serving the teas. It is very rewarding."

The bar raises around £6,000 a year and volunteers can work a number of different hours and days to suit them.

To help, contact voluntary services co-ordinator Bev Wheat on 01785 254645 or bwheat@khospice.org.uk or find out more at www.khospice.org.uk

DECISION-makers at Cannock Chase Council have backed plans for a sports and leisure ground at a former stadium site.

Proposals to restore facilities at the Cannock Stadium site in Pye Green Road were given the nod by the council's cabinet last week.

The public was well behind the scheme during a consultation period and a detailed report will now be drawn up. Officers say it could take up to five years to become a reality but senior councillors are confident of securing the necessary funding once the report is complete.

Council leader George Adamson said: "It is our intention to make the stadium part of our Olympic legacy. We are trying to get as much as we can on this site, we will have something to show for 2012."

Favoured

Culture and sports chief councillor Christine Mitchell added: "We have a wonderful opportunity to create a sport and recreation hub that will benefit the whole community."

The consultation, to which more than 400 people responded, revealed the most favoured sport and recreation facilities were football pitches and athletics training. It is now hoped work could begin in the next 12 months.

The stadium was demolished in 2009. Last May, the council decided to remove it from the list of land available for housing development and develop it as public open space and for sport and leisure purposes.

MEMORY LANE

Madeleine Carroll

Details on the plaque

Madeleine Carroll

Madeleine Carroll, a Hollywood star whose credits included The 39 Steps, is remembered in three plaques around her home town of West Bromwich. One is at her birthplace in Herbert Street, another is at a home in Jesson Street where she spent most of her childhood. A third is at the former West Bromwich Grammar School.

Jerome K Jerome

Birthplace plaque

Jerome K Jerome

Jerome Klapka Jerome was a humorist and writer, best known as the author of Three Men in a Boat. Born in Bradford Street, Walsall, he was the fourth child of ironmonger Jerome Clapp. The plaque is at his birthplace. Other works include the essay collections Idle Thoughts of an Idle Fellow and Second Thoughts of an Idle Fellow and Three Men on the Bummel.

Billy Dainty

Billy's plaque

Comic Billy Dainty

Billy Dainty, was a Dudley-born comedian best remembered for the 1970s Thames Television series Billy Dainty Esq. He later appeared alongside Rod Hull on the children's television series Emu's Broadcasting Company, and was said to have been the Queen Mother's favourite pantomime dame. His plaque is at Dudley Town Hall.

Dolly Allen

Dolly's plaque

Star Dolly Allen

Dolly Allen, who is honoured with a plaque at Brierley Hill Civic Hall, was a popular comedienne who formed part of the Black Country Night Out light entertainment group. She is best remembered for the catchphrase "Hello my luvvers!" in a broad Midlands accent. She was also known for her trademark straw hat with its turkey feather and timeless deadpan delivery.

Plaques play an educational role

THE blue plaques still play a huge huge educational role, says Jez Nicholson, of the national website Open Plaques.

"The plaques are very often the first thing that gets people to take an interest in their local history," he adds.

There is a question mark over the future of them in London but there are plenty to be seen around the Black Country.

In Dudley there are seven such plaques (although only five of them are actually blue), around 20 in Sandwell, and around seven in Walsall.

Television comedian Billy Dainty, who died aged 59 in 1986, is honoured on a plaque at Dudley Town Hall, along with fellow pantomime star Clarkson Rose.

Others in the borough include Halesowen poet and landscape gardener William Shensstone, comedienne Dolly Allen, and Hollywood star Sir Cedric Hardwicke.

Dudley's cabinet member for culture

by Mark Andrews

Councillor Tracy Wood says the council's policy is that the plaques should be funded by the person or group requesting them, and this includes installation, unless it is on a council building.

One of Walsall's five plaques is in memory of Jerome K Jerome, the author of Three Men in a Boat.

Moreen Wilkes is chairman of West Bromwich Local History Society, which is behind three plaques which have been installed at landmarks around the town.

She says securing funding for the plaques has definitely become more difficult recently, and can well envisage that fewer new plaques will be unveiled in years to come.

"In the past there has been lottery funding available, but a lot of that has dried up," she says. The funding is there if you are willing to search for it, but it is very difficult to find, and you really have to dot all the 'i's and cross all the 't's'.

"A lot of the heritage money went to the Olympics last year, meaning that there is less to go around."

It was Heritage Lottery funding that helped Smethwick Local History Society mark the Millennium by having 10 plaques erected at important sites around the area.

"Our plaques cost in the region of £250," says the society's Mary Bodfish.

Dedicated

Among the sites recognised in this way are the site of James Watt's Smethwick engine which pumped water from the town's locks in 1779 to 1891, and the Old Chapel Inn, previously The Hand of Providence, an 18th century pub in Uplands which dates from the same time as the neighbouring church.

Warley Woods, and the Soho Foundry are also recognised.

Historian Terry Price is behind three plaques in West Bromwich, all of which are dedicated to the Hollywood star Madeleine Carroll.

One is at her birthplace, which was financed by the proceeds of Mr Price's history books, another at her childhood home was jointly financed by Mr Price and Sandwell Council, and a third, at the former West Bromwich Grammar School, where Carroll was a pupil, was sponsored by the Old Throstles Association.

Not that everybody is keen on being honoured in this way.

Mr Price approached rock legend Robert Plant about installing a plaque at his birthplace in West Bromwich, but the musician declined the offer.

Mr Price believes there probably will be fewer plaques installed in years to come, but this is not down to shortage of funding.

"I don't think there are that many people who are really successful, and we don't want it to become devalued to the point where every Tom, Dick and Harry is getting something."

Sister Dora

Sister Dora plaque

Sister Dora

Dorothy Pattison, more commonly known as Sister Dora, was a nun who was sent to work at Walsall's hospital in Bridge Street in 1865. She spent the rest of her life in the town earning comparisons with Florence Nightingale. She dealt with a smallpox epidemic in the town in 1875. In 1882, a stained glass window at St Matthew's Church, Walsall, was dedicated to her.

Building work to finally start on business park

Get crafty at trust's fair

James Wood and Laura Cooper promote the Wolsley Centre craft fair. WILDLIFE fans looking for an ideal gift for their Valentine or for Mother's Day can pick up a crafty idea at the Wolsley Centre.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is holding its annual craft fair at its headquarters this weekend, with handmade pottery, woodcarvings and jewellery among the 20-plus stalls.

It takes place on Saturday and Sunday, February 9 and 10, from 10am to 4pm. Admission is £1, with proceeds going towards the trust.

CONSTRUCTION of a business park that will create almost 2,000 jobs in Cannock is to finally get under way.

Tenders for the Mill Green project are to be invited and work to start within months after hold-up of almost a year.

The sprawling 19-acre site will be transformed into a business centre, with a hotel, restaurant and nursery also included. It is hoped the project will create 650 construction jobs and 1,200 full-time posts from firms attracted to the site.

The scheme has been made possible by a £3.5million loan from the Local Enterprise Partnerships. Half has come from the Stoke and Staffordshire LEP and the rest from the Greater Birmingham and Solihull LEP.

Ownership

However the deal was complicated by dual ownership of the land, just off the A5, with Cannock Chase District Council having two-thirds of the site and the rest belonging to regeneration firm Morston Assets. The authority has now bought the Morston land after months of negotiation.

Local authority leader George Adamson welcomed the deal which he said would lead to the release of the LEP money, which will be used for new road links and site works.

He said: "It is excellent news that we can, hopefully, now forge ahead with this scheme that will bring so many high-quality, skilled jobs to the area."

The business park is expected to generate £34m of private investment.

Ramblers to meet up

THE CHASE & District Ramblers meet up for a moderate eight-mile walk in Stone and Barlaston this weekend. Sunday's trek will include the Downs Banks. The meeting point is Hednesford rail station car park, Anglesey Street, for a 9am departure.

Glasses are raised to post-Christmas meal

CHASETOWN
INSTITUTE

THE December meeting was taken up by the Christmas party. The room was festively decorated and there was a first course buffet of hot and cold food, followed by various fruit pies and fresh fruit salad, with meringues and cream.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Hammerwich WI singers, who sang a variety of pieces, both amusing and seasonal, as well as a choice from their growing repertoire.

It was agreed that the evening had been a huge success and, after Santa had distributed gifts from his sack, the group dispersed, looking forward to the next meeting in January.

The talk for the evening in January was 'New England in the Fall' given by Mr and Mrs Griffiths. They showed many slides of their extended holiday in New England, giving an insight into the beauty of the area and some of the customs they discovered on their travels, including an enlightening description of 'Martha's Vineyard'.

In February, there will be an open evening, when we will be hearing a talk on 'A Day in the Life of a Magistrate'.

Meetings are held at 7.15pm on the third Wednesday of the month, at the Old Mining College, Chasetown. New members are welcome.

CANNOCK WI

THE president wished all members a Happy New Year, and a speedy recovery to Doris, Jan, Alice and Barbara and Audrey. The secretary read out the minutes and future notices from SFWI.

On March 19 is the spring council meeting with speakers from the Cabinet office, and a TV/wildlife photographer.

The president said what a lovely post-Christmas meal everyone had at The Rag.

Social secretary Ellen discussed the three resorts put to the vote for the summer holiday and also required names of those wishing to attend Denman College. Members were asked to support the WI group meeting, hosted by Cannock, on March 28. There will be a speaker from SFWI and the Cannock Ex-Servicemen's Choir will entertain, with a buffet to follow.

Guest Ian Bott gave a talk on Staffordshire Murders. Chris Pace gave the vote of thanks. The next meeting is on February 14 at 10.30am with the speaker Jean Prosser. The competition is a Valentine's poem.

along the way for beginners and experts alike.

Inner Wheel members provided drinks and mince pies and ensured the evening ran smoothly.

Ladies were generous in their support of the raffle for Julie's lovely flowers.

Charities supported this year include the Riverside House, the Pathway Project, Katharine House, Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Birmingham, Help For Heroes and the Air Ambulance.

The Swan Inn on Rugeley Road, Armitage, will host the event at 7pm on Saturday, March 16, and anyone interested in playing should contact the venue or telephone organiser Anthony Cope on 07969 756336. Entrants must pay a fee of £5 which will go towards Katharine House Hospice.

Car dealer staff in fears over future

Wayne Stocking and Dean Bannister, who have been laid off at Motorhouse, Cannock

WORKERS who have been laid off for 13 weeks by a used car sales firm say they are uncertain whether they will be able to return to their jobs.

Letters were handed to staff at The Motorhouse in Cannock last week explaining that a decision had been made to lay off more than 40 workers due to a downturn in business.

In the letter, HR manager Yvonne Hosie said "your continuation of service will not be affected" and workers would be contacted if there was a "significant" upturn in business.

The letter also stated that five payments of up to £23.50 would be paid to those affected.

But vehicle technicians Wayne Stocking and Dean Bannister, who were among those to receive the letters, fear that further cut-backs are on the cards and have voiced concerns that they may lose their jobs altogether.

Father-of-two Mr Stocking said: "We were told they had used a system to score us all but we were not allowed to see how they scored us and they have laid off some of the more qualified staff. Our bonuses were stopped as well last November."

Provide

Mr Stocking, aged 43, of Dorsett Road, Wednesbury, has worked for the Watling Street firm for 15 months.

Colleague Mr Bannister, 34, of Bentley, Walsall, who has worked for the firm for 10 months, said: "I still have to try and provide for my family. It's hard."

No-one at The Motorhouse was available for comment.

Hefty fine for firm over health and safety breach

This photograph, taken by a member of the public, sparked an investigation by the Health & Safety Executive

A FIRM has been landed with a bill for thousands of pounds for instructing two men to work high up in the air without correct protection or training.

The action comes after a concerned member of the public took a picture of the men working at a furniture shop in Bridgtown.

The workers were spotted precariously on the roof – and the picture prompted an investigation by the Health and Safety Executive.

Officers visited the site in Green Lane and found the workers were not trained for the roof repairs they were doing for refurbishment and shop fitting firm Fastrac Profiles Limited. HSE investigators say the two workers, and those working below them, were put in unnecessary danger.

Falls

Fastrac Profiles Limited, of Neptune Industrial Estate in Owen Road, Wilenhall, was fined £5,000 at Stafford Magistrates court. It was also ordered to pay £3,761 in costs after pleading guilty to breaching part of the Work at Height Regulations 2005.

HSE inspector Alastair Choudhury said: "Falls from height are a significant cause of fatalities and serious injuries. The risks involved with work at height are entirely foreseeable and it is essential that proper planning assessment and training is undertaken to reduce these risks.

"Those who neglect to do this and who don't provide a safe system of work, put workers at serious risk."

Magistrates were told the workers had been instructed to weld steel to uprights at the apex of a roof. No risk assessment had been carried out, the court heard. HSE officers also found no fall prevention measures, such as scaffolding, were in place. The offence happened on September 26, 2011.

Make a splash to build your child's confidence

MOST babies love to play in water with a nice squishy fish or a smiley duck.

But why restrict these toys to the bathroom? Swimming is an even more exciting activity for them, however young they are.

In fact it may be the middle of winter now, but what better time to start swimming and get set for summer.

What could be nicer than cuddling with your baby in a steaming hot pool as the rain drips down the windows?

The only thing to consider when taking young children swimming in the winter months is that the water temperature needs to be cozy warm – that is 32 degrees for babies under 12lbs or weeks and 30 degrees for everyone else.

Water Babies swimming classes are a fantastic way to begin to build water confidence in your baby.

Surface

Not only that, they can start to develop skills that could potentially save their lives one day.

"We teach our babies that if you fall into the pool, you need to kick up to the surface and hold on," says Heidi Hunter-Cope who runs Water Babies in the Shropshire area.

"Our babies are often able to hold on to the side of the pool by age four or five months.

"The best thing of all is that most of the time babies and parents are having so much fun they don't realise that they are learning anything.

"Most of our children are swimming by around two and a half years. In the last two years alone, we've

Awards

"This is one of the reasons why we've won multiple national awards for our programme."

Water Babies lessons take place in Wolverhampton, Brierley Hill and Cannock.

Bookings are currently being taken for classes.

Loyalty scheme proposed over Portas cash in town

A LOYALTY card scheme, advertising boosts and an improved market are among the ideas to boost trade in Burntwood.

The suggestions were made after traders were asked for their views on how cash earmarked to renovate the high street should be spent.

Burntwood Town Council leader Diane Evans said she wanted businesses in the town to get their cut of money being set aside as part of a scheme involving proposals by TV retail guru Mary Portas to help revive high streets. Lichfield has been earmarked £100,000 from the fund.

Half of the cash has been set aside for retail areas in and around Burntwood.

Councillor Evans spoke to traders at Burntwood Library to hear suggestions of how the money could be used. She said more than 100 businesses had already shared their ideas.

She added: "We do want to ensure that the money is used effectively and we want to listen to what businesses think should happen with the money."

Gateway

"We've had people that have talked about having directional signs to businesses, advertising to raise their profile and making the gateway into Burntwood more attractive. They have also spoken about loyalty cards."

"We need adequate bus routes. Other people have suggested improving the market and bringing one of the empty premises back into use at Christmas."

Councillor Evans said she wanted to make sure the cash was used to boost trade for existing businesses and to encourage residents of Burntwood to shop in their own town.

"One of the main things is that businesses are coming together and talking," she added. "We've spoken to well over 100 businesses as we've been going round and a good variety of them."

Collaboration launched with big read initiative

Youngsters Ella Blower and Richard Birchall, both aged 10, taking part in the 10-minute Big Read event at Penkridge Middle School

SCHOOLCHILDREN in Penkridge were among those taking part in a big reading event.

Schools including Penkridge Middle School and Wolgarston High School took time out of their busy day for a mass 10-minute read.

Kathie Farley, from Penkridge Middle School, said: "We rang a bell in the school and everyone started to read. Everyone chose their own books and it was nice to know that children, staff and teachers in all the other schools were doing the same thing."

The event was part of The Wolgarston Collaboration, which formed in the autumn term last year to get the schools working together more. The Big Read day launched the collaboration and focused on the importance of reading.

Witness plea on burglary

POLICE are appealing for information following a burglary near Rugeley. Offenders broke into a house in Rake End, Hill Ridware, sometime during Thursday, January 24. They made off with a laptop, a Sharp 32 inch LCD TV and DVD player. Witnesses should call police on 101.

Protecting the heathland

NATURE lovers are being invited to help protect and restore an area of rare heathland on Cannock Chase.

The Connecting Cannock Chase Project – a partnership between a partnership between Staffordshire Wildlife Trust, Forestry Commission, Natural England, Staffordshire County Council, Cannock Chase AONB, Butterfly Conservation, and the RSPB – is running a series of volunteering days aimed at helping heathland plants such as heather and bilberry to thrive. They start with a one-and-a-half-hour guided walk today (Thursday) from 2pm.

People can then get stuck into a practical volunteering day on Saturday (February 9) at 10am.

The meeting point is the White House car park, Penkridge Bank. Future volunteering days are on Thursday March 7 and 21.

To book a place or more information call Bernadette Noake on 01889 880100.

Owner fashions out extra jobs at outlet

Business is booming once again at the Fashion Factory, in Vine Lane, Bridgton

A TOTAL of 10 jobs have been created at a Cannock clothes store which closed last year after going into administration.

The Fashion Factory in Bridgton went out of business in July with the loss of 30 jobs.

It was taken over by a new boss three months later and 30 posts were saved. Now business is booming and more staff are being added.

New boss Philip Yates said he was proud to have been able to take on the staff at the store, which has been trading since 1994.

Mr Yates said the Vine Lane store had turned its fortunes around as it had stopped selling prom dresses, which he believes caused the business' initial decline, and had started focusing more on products for the home.

"Everything has just been going really well," he said.

"And it has been great to have been able to now employ 40 people, adding 10 new staff as business is going good.

"I think we are doing well as we have the right mix of fashion and designs for our customers who come to our store," he said.

He said they now were building a home-ware section, which had taken over from the prom dress area.

"The prom dresses were not a good move as we do not own our stock, we sell it for the company and then take a commission.

Products

"But with the dresses we had to buy them six months before and if they didn't sell then the company lost money. So this isn't the case now," he said.

Now Mr Yates said they were focusing on home products along with a number of ladies' and men's shoe ranges.

He said they were also working on a better customer reward scheme.

The store closed after going into voluntary liquidation.

Club is on hunt for more help

VOLUNTEERS are being urged to come forward to serve on the Penkridge and District Riding Club committee.

The club, which has been running for 37 years, holds six annual show jumping and gymkhana events from April to September and is asking people to assist in the running of the shows.

Club secretary Pam Clay, said: "We need people to commit to a period of at least six months. Volunteers will be heavily involved in all of our shows which can be busy but are a lot of fun."

"We would struggle to cope without volunteers so I would be grateful for anyone who could help and urge them to get in touch."

To volunteer or for more information telephone 01902 790421.

Leisure venue science lesson

SUPREME science is among the new activities at Penkridge Leisure Centre during half-term.

Archery, crafts and trampolining are also available at the Cannock Road centre during the week, from February 18 to 22.

They are aimed at children aged from five-to-12 and cost £3.50 for a two-hour session.

Booking is advised as spaces limited. Call 01785 714152.

New school sensory room to benefit hundreds of pupils

A NEW sensory room has opened at Penkridge Middle School benefiting hundreds of children in the village.

The room will help students enhance sensory and language development and improve co-ordination.

It has been fitted with specialist equipment including a musical touch wall, an interactive bubble tube, fibre optic lights, mirrors and a massage kit.

The school worked tirelessly to raise the £8,500 needed to convert the ex-store room which is a welcome addition to its multi-sensory teaching unit, The Phoenix Room.

Support

Di Hinton, special educational needs co-ordinator, said she was grateful to local businesses and individuals who had helped support the project.

She added: "Our children and staff would like to say a very big thank you to all the people who have judged our project worthy to receive their support and financial backing. Sensory rooms have been shown to enhance hand/eye co-ordination and support language development but above all to allow relaxation.

"They also have the ability to encourage independent learning and reduce anxiety and stress levels."

The opening was attended by members of the parish council, Penkridge Round Table, Penkridge Inner Wheel, county councillor Veronica Downes and parents and staff from the Special Educational Needs Support Service.

Councillor Richard Biskier, who opened the room, said he was thrilled with its impact. He said: "This is a wonderful example of the community coming together."

Lent lunch served up in parish

A LENT lunch will be served in Penkridge next month in aid of charity. The meal will be held at Peace Memorial Hall on Pinfold Lane on Sunday March 3 at 1pm. Tickets cost £7 and are available from St Michael's and All Angels Church. All money raised goes towards the Bishop's Lent appeal to support people in need.

The bells toll in fundraising ap-peal

Bell ringers peal the bells for three hours to raise money for St Michael's and All Angels Church organ restoration

A THREE-hour bell peal in Penkridge has raised almost £900 towards the restoration of St Michael's and All Angels Church organ.

Eight ringers from across Cannock and Stafford chimed the bells during the non-stop session which raised £859.50. Bell ringer Jean Nixon said: "It was very exhausting. My arms were aching the next day."

"The bells at Penkridge are very heavy and the ropes are very long so it was hard work but definitely worth it. It's all part of the fun."

"My husband and I were also celebrating our wedding anniversary as well as the Queen's Diamond Jubilee so it was very enjoyable."

"Bell ringing is more of a pastime than a hobby and we will definitely be doing more of it in the future."

Raffle just the ticket for repairs

TICKETS are on sale for a raffle to raise funds towards the £80,000 restoration of a church organ in Penkridge.

The spring raffle will be drawn in March to raise money for the organ at St Michael's and All Angels Church off Station Road with 30 prizes including £250 and a meal for two.

Penkridge Business Association chairman, Anne Geoghegan, said: "Tickets only cost £1 and all the money raised will be going to restoring the church organ so I would encourage people to buy one."

This is the first full restoration for the organ which dates back to 1861. It remains functional but not all of the notes fully sound.

Tickets for the raffle are available from the Co-Op on Market Street.

Villagers can raise issues

RESIDENTS in Penkridge will have the chance to voice concerns to councillors and police at a meeting next week.

The neighbourhood forum meeting will be attended by members of Staffordshire Police and representatives of Cannock Chase council.

It will be held on Wednesday February 13 from 6pm at Penkridge Leisure Centre on Cannock Road. For more information call 0300 123 2345, extension 16762.

Royal do for Ivy

Ivy Stone of Penkridge who has collected her MBE

A 93-YEAR-OLD people's champion from Penkridge had a right Royal date as she collected her MBE.

Ivy dressed in petrol blue and hired a hat from a milliner with royal connections for the date last Friday. Get Ahead Hats in Derrington, near Stafford, also supplies the Duchess of Cambridge and her sister Pippa Middleton.

Ivy, who has 12 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren, was awarded an MBE in the New Year's Honours' List for a lifetime of charity work. She was nominated by her family including sons Arthur, 75, Les, 66, and David, 51, and daughters Joan, 63, Maureen, 61, and Irene, 60.

Date change as Wolves boss to guest at event

THE DATE of a fundraiser in memory of a popular young footballer who died of meningitis has been changed.

The event will go ahead on March 15 instead of March 1 after Wolves manager Dean Saunders, who has agreed to be guest speaker, could not make the original date.

A Wolves fixture change due to Sky Sports coverage meant the event in memory of 13-year-old Liam Keeling had to be rescheduled.

Liam, of Cheslyn Hay, died suddenly in October 2009. The death of the popular pupil of Cardinal Griffin School in Cannock prompted his parents Andy and mum Georgina to collect cash for the Meningitis UK charity - so far raising more than £125,000.

Former Aston Villa striker Saunders had already been signed up by Andy and Georgina for the annual sports dinner at Walsall's Banks's Stadium, while he was manager of Doncaster Rovers.

Tragic Liam Keeling

Booked

Postman Andy, aged 53, said: "We booked him a while ago when he was still at Doncaster, and when he moved we thought we might have to get another speaker - but Dean said he was still OK to do it."

"But we've only found out in the last few days that Sky Sports have changed the date of the Wolves match with Watford to Friday, March 1 which clashed with our event."

A table of 10 can be booked for £320, with individual tickets available for £34 each. To book, call 07800 816871.

Till packs a punch on charity comeback bout

Boxer Peter Till is declared the winner following his comeback fight for charity against Les Byfield in Cannock

BOXER Peter Till enjoyed a triumphant comeback in Cannock after stepping back into the ring in memory of his father.

Till, who retired as a professional in 1996, won the fight over six three-minute rounds in front of cheering crowds at The Premier Suite in High Green. The 49-year-old was raising funds for Prostate Cancer UK in memory of his father George, known as Fono, who died from the disease aged 58.

Opponent

Till walked into the ring to Dean Martin's 'That's Amore', his father's favourite song, before doing battle with his young opponent Les Byfield, and later sang it after being declared the winner. The fighter had received a good-luck message from his former sparring partner and ex-World Featherweight Champion Barry McGuigan ahead of the bout.

Till, from Coalpool, Walsall, said after the fight: "It was great to be back in the ring. My two sons have never seen me fight so I wanted to do this for them as well as my father."

The former Midlands Area Lightweight Champion said he did not rule out another fight in the future.

REVIEWS

Grand secrets and suspects

Wolverhampton Grand

SUSPECTS, secrets and suspense abound in this new production of Go Back For Murder at the Grand Theatre.

The Agatha Christie Theatre Company does delightful justice to this classic mystery penned by the dame of drama.

Although the intriguing plot moves along slowly in the first half it gathers a sharp pace with its twists and turns in the second act.

Trying to prove her mother's innocence of poisoning her father, Carla Crale goes around each witness to get their version of events of that fateful day. The first class cast use their talent well in establishing each character's persona.

Sophie Ward plays both daughter and mother incredibly well, supported by Liza Goddard who plays a demure Miss Williams.

The stage lights dim and each actor stands perfectly still in the final scene to reveal the real murderer. Whodunit? You will have to take a trip to the Grand Theatre to find out.

Go Back For Murder continues until Saturday.

Keeping the Faith with a style icon

Paloma Faith,
Wolverhampton Civic Hall

ENTERTAINER, kooky style icon and soul singer, Paloma Faith has only released two albums but is already a firm favourite with the British public, as shown by a full house at the Civic Hall on Saturday night with fans ranging from children to senior citizens.

Her honey-coloured hair piled high, the songstress from Hackney began her 90 minute concert in elaborate pose holding huge fans decorated with musical notes and piano keys.

Gold

The curtain parted to reveal a Palm Court set with gold and platinum foliage surrounding her five-piece band and three backing singers.

Clad in a 1940s-style black velvet dress with golden neck and waist motifs, she opened with Let Your Love Walk In from her Brit-nominated second album Fall To Grace.

Tom Mason

That album's melancholy ballads dominated the set.

She was honest to tell the audience that she was bored with songs from debut album Do You Want The Truth or Something Beautiful, and relegated her breakthrough release to four songs. One of them, the up-tempo Upside Down, got the most enthusiastic reaction of the night.

Other highlights included her cover of INXS song Never Tear Us Apart, which she has made her own, and the tender Just Be. Soul belter Something's Got A Hold On Me, originally by her music hero Etta James, showed why Jools Holland rates Paloma so highly.

The diminutive dynamic diva climbed on top of the piano to sing Freedom before sending the fans home happy with Picking Up The Pieces and Black And Blue.

Paloma Faith will be back in the West Midlands for a Forest Live concert at Cannock Chase on June 28.

Reward for Poppy Appeal fundraising stalwart

Brenda Rose, who has been awarded for her years of fundraising, with Norton Canes Primary School pupils

A FUNDRAISING stalwart has been honoured for more than 60 years of supporting the Royal British Legion.

Brenda Rose's efforts have been rewarded with a framed certificate.

Brenda, aged 80, of Brownhills Road, is a standard bearer and chairman of the Legion's Women's Section. She began her volunteering work in 1949. Today, she speaks to children about the work of the Legion and what it was like to be a child during the Second World War.

Legion community fundraiser Alison Bates said: "It's the hard work and dedication of people like Brenda that has allowed The Poppy Appeal to be successful."

Study into retail park bid

COUNCIL chiefs will release the results of a feasibility study into a flagship shopping complex in Cannock within months.

Beecroft Road car park is being considered for development by Cannock Chase District Council, with Marks & Spencer, Debenhams and Next lined up for the site. If plans go ahead compulsory purchase orders could be made to acquire land in Allport Road, which has about 30 homes, for the scheme.

Property experts are carrying out market testing research, costing the taxpayer £4,500.

The authority estimates it should have the results early this year. Up to 150,000 sq ft of retail-leisure space may be created on a number of floors.

Letters have been sent to Allport Road householders promising full consultation. The letter, signed by council leader George Adamson, reads: "If there is interest in developing the site, the council will then work with developers to develop and consult upon a viable scheme for the Beecroft Road car park site."

"If a development scheme does progress, public consultation would follow and there would be ample opportunity for you to consider and comment on any detailed proposals."

Art exhibition and mini market to boost church

AN art exhibition and mini market is being held at a Great Wyrley church this weekend. It is being staged at the Wesley Methodist Church, on Walsall Road from 10.30am to 1.30pm on Saturday (February 9).

The Art Group, which meets at the church every Tuesday is showing off its artwork, with some of the pictures up for sale. The exhibition will be combined with a mini market as the January event was cancelled because of snow. Stalls will include a tombola, raffle, crafts, homemade cakes and cards, with refreshments including bacon sandwiches.

The Great Wyrley Historical Society will be present to sell copies of their latest publication and will have many local photos on display.

Band aid for cause

John Hibbs, aged 34, of Hednesford, is selling wristbands for the charity he founded, the Hibbs Lupus Trust

A CHARITY set up by a Hednesford man to help sufferers of a rare illness has begun selling wristbands to boost funds and raise awareness.

John Hibbs, aged 34, was the driving force behind setting up The Hibbs Lupus Trust after his 29-year-old sister Viki, 29, was diagnosed with the condition in 2008.

Lupus causes the body's immune system to go into overdrive and it starts to attack itself. The charity has raised more than £10,000 since launching and the money will be presented to Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust next month.

Mr Hibbs, of Bakers Way, Hednesford, said: "We have just started selling the wristbands to raise awareness and have already sold about 15. We also sell T-shirts and hoodies and pin badges. The wristbands are £1.

Leader 'sad' over hospital failings

STAFFORDSHIRE County Council's leader says more could have been done to investigate and challenge information surrounding Stafford Hospital at the time of its failings.

Councillor Philip Atkins said every organisation involved with Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust at the time of the problems had to shoulder some responsibility.

He said the scandal had been "one of the worst times not only for the NHS but for Staffordshire itself".

Yesterday (Wednesday), Robert Francis QC was due to unveil the findings of his public inquiry into unnecessary deaths at the hospital.

Challenge

Councillor Atkins said: "There isn't a single organisation involved with the trust at that time which doesn't bear some responsibility."

"The county council could have done more at the time to challenge information that was presented and I am saddened it didn't. I would like to reassure Staffordshire residents that real progress has and continues to be made."

Councillor Atkins called on the public to help shape NHS healthcare in Staffordshire.

Independent patient champion Engaging Communities Staffordshire has been formed for the public to quiz health chiefs.

And in the spring, Healthwatch, a public-led organisation to help shape services in the county, will be launched.

Black Country performers

BLACK Country entertainers Giggetty, Doug Parker and David Bartley will perform in Burntwood next month in aid of the town council chairman's charities. The concert is on Saturday, March 9 from 7.30pm at St Matthews Sports & Social Club in St Matthews Road. St Giles Hospice and the Newlife foundation for Disabled Children will benefit. Tickets are £12 with a basket meal or £6.50 without food, available from Burntwood town council, unit 1, Lambourne House, Bridge Cross Road. ## COMPETITION

Prizes up for grabs as store looks for Pet Star

THE recently refurbished Pets at Home store in Cannock, is looking for a local Pet Star.

The pet store has teamed up with the Cannock & Rugeley Chronicle to offer a lucky reader and their pet the chance to win £100 worth of Pets at Home gift vouchers.

The winner and their pet will also be invited to the re-launch of the Pets at Home Cannock store at the Orbital Retail Centre, where they will receive star treatment. Highly-trained pet advisers will be on hand to help them pick the best products for their pet.

Three runners-up will each receive £50 worth of Pets at Home gift vouchers.

Pets at Home Cannock provides thousands of dedicated pet products for local dogs, cats, small animals, reptiles, birds, fish, chickens and wildlife.

Laboratory

The refurbished store will now feature a new companion care surgery and the installation of a groom room.

The new companion care vets surgery will house a full operating theatre, digital X-ray facilities, in-house laboratory and a hospital ward providing a full range of new services from health checks to emergency operations.

The groom room will offer full grooming, bath and blow dry, puppy grooming, nail clipping and microchipping, which are all important to a pet's health and wellbeing.

Your chance to win

TO be in with a chance of winning, just answer the following question.

Where is the new-look store located? a) Orbital Retail Centre; b) Space Retail Centre or c) Planet Retail Centre

Send your answer with your name, address and a daytime telephone number to: Pets At Home Competition, Cannock & Rugeley Chronicle, 51-53 Queen Street, Wolverhampton, WV1 1ES. Closing date is Thursday, February 15 and the winner must be available to take part in a photocall at the store on Friday 22 February between 9.30 and 11am.

Network group on the move into town

A POPULAR nationwide networking scheme is coming to Cannock to help the town's businesspeople connect.

Business Biscotti is an informal place for local businesses to meet one and other and develop relationships. The free to join group had more than 22,000 people attend its free events last year.

Sue Reeves, Business Biscotti marketing director said: "There has been incredible interest since we started and I have been amazed how quickly it has taken off."

The first meeting will be at the Roman Way Hotel, Watling Street, Cannock on February 13 from 10am to noon, followed by monthly meetings every second Wednesday. For more information, contact Darrell Mawle on 01543 422266.

60s artist's cover is music to the ears of songwriter Mike

A SINGER-songwriter from Burntwood says he is honoured after an American musician released a cover version of a song he wrote 25-years-ago.

Mike Newey, aged 60, owns Neon Sound Studios on New Road and has been a member of the band Counterpoint for 28 years. Throughout the 80s and 90s the band released a string of hits including Gringo and Greeced Lightening.

Concert to mark band's 20th year

A SHOWBAND is celebrating its 20th anniversary with a special concert this weekend. Tickets are still available for Saturday's performance by the Bridgtown Concert Showband at Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School in Hall Lane.

Organisers believe more than 500 musicians have played with the band since its formation. They hope former members – including those who backed Sir Cliff at the Davis Cup tennis at the NIA in Birmingham in 1999 – will be among the audience.

But now, one of their songs, Saratoga, has been covered by Bob Spalding of The Ventures who rose to fame in the 60s.

Mr Newey said: "It is an honour for someone of that standard to cover a song I wrote with my band. Bob has done a fantastic cover. He very nicely asked if he could cover it and I didn't hesitate to say yes."

The Ventures were formed in 1958 and had hits including 'Walk Don't Run' and Hawaii 5-0. They still pack out concert halls around the world today and on March 31, Spalding will join the band on stage in Hertfordshire at this year's Pipeline Instrumental Rock Convention.

Mr Newey added: "We are all really looking forward to performing with Bob. We played at the very first convention so it's great to play again at the 21st with Bob."

Open day to learn all about directory

AN online directory for Staffordshire has been made easier to read to help those with learning disabilities.

The Staffordshire Cares Purple Pages already helps more than 2,000 people a month to find the details of things to do, services, products and organisations that could help them.

The Purple Pages team, run by Staffordshire County Council, has worked with charities Reach and Mencap, special schools and other organisations to develop the website, making the database easier to navigate.

The Purple Pages team are holding open days to demonstrate how the website can help. These are being held at Cannock Library on February 12 and Burntwood Library on February 14, both from 1-4pm.

Working smoke alarms prove they do save lives

A 92-YEAR-OLD man owes his life to smoke alarms, after a chip pan burst into flames in his kitchen.

Fortunately, his smoke alarms were connected to a remote care service.

When the team tried to phone him and didn't get an answer they called his neighbour to check on the property, and they saw smoke.

Within a few short minutes, firefighters from West Midlands Fire Service arrived and resuscitated the man after rescuing him from his smoke-filled home. He was then taken to hospital by ambulance.

WMFS Operations Commander Mick Birch said: "This is a story that could so easily have had a tragic ending. Given the gentleman's age and medical history, I have no doubt that he would have died had the smoke alarms not been fitted and the fire hadn't been detected so quickly."

"In this particular case the smoke alarms were installed after West Midlands Fire Service carried out a home safety check. They were connected to a carers, family, friends and neighbours to test smoke alarms for people who might have problems reaching them.

"It only takes a few seconds but could, quite literally, be a life-saving act."

A smoke alarm is there to alert you in enough time for you to escape from your home. Although nine out of ten households have a smoke alarm, seven out of ten people don't test them regularly.

Testing they work is just as important as fitting them in the first place.

To check if you're eligible for a free Home Safety Check, or to request information about fire safety in the home, call the West Midlands Fire Service freephone number: 0800 389 5525.

A Home Safety Check takes about half an hour. Someone from WMFS will check your home to ensure there are no immediate fire hazards, give you fire safety advice, and also fit smoke alarms if required.

There's lots of home safety advice on the West Midlands Fire Service website: www.wmfs.net. If you follow us on Twitter – @WestMidsFire – you'll receive our weekly #testittuesday reminders.

Police in vow after break-ins

POLICE have pledged to crack down on crime in Heath Hayes and Hawk Green following a series of recent break-ins.

Officers will be out and about in force this week to help people protect their property after the area suffered four home raids, three thefts from vehicles and one motor stolen since the start of January.

Operation Impact will see high-visibility patrols educate people on the correct way to secure their property after it was found that many of the cars and homes had been left insecure.

Locked

Chief Inspector Carl Ratcliffe, from Cannock Chase District Local Policing Team, said: "People can help protect their property by always keeping doors locked, making sure tools and garden equipment are securely locked in a garage or shed.

"As part of Operation Impact, officers and PCSOs will be out and about in Heath Hayes to reinforce this message and offer crime prevention advice."

New care unit

UP TO 50 jobs will be created when a Cannock-based care company opens new premises in Codsall. Bluebird Care will open at the former village police station in Wolverhampton Road, on February 14. The company offers support so people can remain independent in their own homes.

Work to start on repairing damaged paths in village

DAMAGED footpaths in Great Wyrley are to be repaired with more than £110,000 worth of investment from Staffordshire County Council.

The project, taking place over the next three months, forms part of a £20 million road infrastructure scheme announced by the council last year.

Workmen from the county's highways team plan to resurface pathways and replace damaged kerbs and ironworks on Manor Avenue, Kingswood Drive and Pool View. The work will start next Monday (February 11).

South Staffordshire's County Councillor with responsibilities for Great Wyrley Mike Lawrence said: "These improvements are very welcome and when the work is completed, residents and pedestrians in Great Wyrley will see real long term benefits."

Disruption

Homeowners have been told they will be able to access their homes as usual but may be restricted at times depending on repairs. Roads users have been warned they may face some disruption due to temporary traffic lights.

County Councillor Kath Perry, who also represents Great Wyrley, said: "I am delighted that this improvement work is starting which I'm sure will make a real difference to people in the area."

"This particular project is only one set of works and is part of a rolling programme of footway schemes to be carried out in the Great Wyrley area over the next few years."

Cut-throat business as Groom Room opens

Owner Tim Lees gives Aidan Burley MP a close shave

Chase MP Aidan Burley opens The Groom Room with owner Tim Lees, his wife Hope, father Ken and Councillor John Bernard

CHASE MP Aidan Burley was the first customer to receive a wet shave at a new male salon at the weekend.

The Conservative MP opened The Groom Room at Hemlock Retail Park before sitting down for a treatment of his own.

Mr Burley said: "It was a pleasure to open The Groom Room in Cannock because small businesses are the lifeblood of our local economy and it is always a special moment to see a new business starting trading.

"It was also very encouraging to see young entrepreneur, Tim Lees, having the vision and drive to get to this exciting stage."

Mr Lees launched the business after seeing a gap in the market. He said he wasn't nervous shaving Mr Burley and luckily there was no slip of the blade or blood.

Courier firm's new base signed and sealed

WORK on a courier firm's new £15 million base in Cannock has now been completed.

Staff will start moving from APC Overnight's Essington base into the new 150,000 sq ft unit at Kingswood Lakeside Business Park, Cannock sometime in the summer.

The company's 250-strong current workforce will be double by the creation of a further 300 jobs. The new base will act as a central sorting centre for APC Overnight's 115 depots.

Company chief executive Syed Ziaullah said: "This new development is the result of more than four years planning and development although in truth it is something we have been gearing up to for a lot longer."

Parcels

"Dependability and professionalism are what our company is built on, and it's this that has helped us grow from delivering a few hundred parcels in 1994 to where we are today."

APC Overnight is the UK's largest independent delivery service and its decision to move to new premises followed record growth over recent years, culminating in the company posting £65.76 million turnover and a 30 per cent rise in pre-tax profits for the year 2011/12.

Excavation work took place to prepare the 12-acre plot at Kingswood, once an open cast mine, before con-

Construction partners Opus Land, Buckingham Group and Rider Levett Bucknall UK Ltd attended the practical completion of the project at the site this week. APC won Business of the Year at the Express & Star Business Awards in 2012. It has been running at maximum capacity for more than a year-and-a-half. Figures from December also show the company's continued growth, with depots increasing their standard delivery fleet by more than 20 per cent and an overall 30 per cent rise in freight volume based on the same period the previous year.

Warning to cemetery protesters

A WARNING has been sounded for campaigners fighting to stop a cemetery being built on green belt land near their homes.

A packed public meeting in Rushall last week heard from a resident living near the Springhill Cemetery Group's site at Muckley Corner, the same company behind the application before Walsall Council.

The resident, who did not want to be named, warned that the firm fought for eight years to win planning permission after its original application was thrown out. At the meeting council officers were also criticised for not informing residents by letter of the application.

Chief planning officer Andrew Thompson read out house numbers in Aldridge Road, Mellish Road, Landywood House and Fernleigh Road where householders were notified by post.

Signatures

But several residents said that no letters had arrived. A petition opposing the cemetery has gained more than 1,200 signatures. Some 98 individual letters of protest have also been sent to the council. Almost 300 angry residents confronted council bosses over the proposed £3m private cemetery.

The protesters won two extra weeks to submit objections after many said they had not had consultation notices.

Mr Thompson told a packed community hall at Rushall Church that the plan for an 8,000-plot graveyard in Aldridge Road, would almost certainly not go ahead because of flooding and contamination concerns.

Residents said they were prepared for an appeal by applicant Aamer Waheed, boss of Springhill Cemetery.

10 taken on by housing company in scheme

AN affordable housing company has recruited 10 people on to a scheme for six-month paid work placements.

They include 19-year-old Tom Lawson, of Cannock. Bromford Housing Association, based in Wolverhampton, has recruited for the second phase of its Opportunities 4 Employment scheme.

Launched last year, the scheme saw 10 Bromford customers complete six-month paid work placements, which resulted in five two-year apprenticeships and three extended placements.

Sarah Terry, customer development manager, said: "We believe in our customers' potential and feel we are ideally placed to provide opportunities to help them from unemployment into work and be the best they can be. There are thousands out of work who are desperate to get a job."

Puppy taken from arms of its owner

A PUPPY was snatched from its owner's arms as he carried it home through a car park in Cannock.

The Staffordshire bull terrier, called Tess, had just been given as a 16th birthday present and her theft has left her new master distraught.

Police are appealing for help from the public in tracing the animal which has distinctive markings.

The robbery took place at around 10.30pm on Saturday when the victim, who was carrying the dog, was approached by two men on the car park in Hunter Road, Cannock.

One of the men engaged the teenager in conversation and tried to grab the dog from him. The owner initially resisted but was threatened by the man.

De Emma Harthill said:

Stolen puppy Jess

"The victim had just collected the dog, which was his 16th birthday present, when it was snatched from him."

"Fortunately, he wasn't injured but has been left devastated."

He and his family are spreading the word using social media sites in the hope someone will recognise the dog and give information to its whereabouts."

She said the dog was a dark brindle bitch, about four to five months old, with white markings on her chest and paws. Two men from Cannock, aged 31 and 35, have been arrested on suspicion of robbery and released on police bail pending further inquiries.

A report by the Metropolitan Police found that more Staffordshire bull terriers were stolen than any other breed.

It quotes a dog website which says the animals are "exceedingly protective of their family and make excellent guardians and watchdogs" and "excel in agility and obedience".

Veronica Brown, of the Staffordshire Bull Terrier Breed Council, said the breed's good nature may make them easier to steal.

Anyone with any information is asked to ring De Harthill at Staffordshire Police on 101, quoting incident number 859 of February 2.

Work starts to repair historic buildings

THE first two projects in a scheme to repair buildings in Rugeley town centre's conservation area are under way.

Cannock Chase Council is working with English Heritage to help businesses make repairs to historic commercial buildings as part of a three-year scheme.

Funding of £100,000 has been allocated towards the scheme in year one and the first two projects are now starting on site. Grants are still available for year two up until March 31.

Scaffolding has gone up at properties in Anson Street to allow re-roofing, re-pointing, re-statement of traditional cast iron guttering and rainwater pipes and repairs to timber sash windows.

The work should extend each building's life well into the future.

Councillor Gordon Alcott, the authority's leader of economic development and planning, said: "The scheme aims to help preserve and enhance Rugeley's unique character and appearance by safeguarding the long-term future of important buildings."

TV shows help to deliver midwife course interest

SOARING numbers of young people are signing up to be midwives – thanks to the popularity of television shows featuring the profession.

Call The Midwife and One Born Every Minute are being credited with the rise. Demand for courses is now so popular that in many cases, the amount of applications far outweighs the number of places available.

The University of Wolverhampton received nearly 1,000 applications for just 63 midwife places in 2011 while at Staffordshire University, the number of applications increased by more than 13 per cent on the previous year. Midwifery courses at the University of Worcester are also oversubscribed.

Tutors have credited the popularity of the two television shows, which give different insights into the lives of midwives, as one of the factors contributing to the surge in interest.

Call the Midwife, which has started its second series on BBC1, is based on the real life experiences of nurse Jennifer Worth.

Covers

It stars Miranda Hart and has been a runaway success with almost nine million viewers tuning in each week to follow the lives of midwives back in the 1950s.

The popular One Born Every Minute, which airs on Channel 4, is also a ratings hit. The show covers the day-to-day life on a maternity ward following both mothers and staff.

Education chiefs at the University of Wolverhampton say there has always been a lot of interest in the profession but there is now a growing number of people who are seeking a career in midwifery.

Marcia Edwards, head of midwifery,

Student Charlotte Milligan finds Call the Midwife provides valuable insights maternity and the newborn said: "Midwifery has always been a popular course here at Wolverhampton and we have never experienced any difficulty in filling places. However, since Call the Midwife and One Born Every Minute there has been a positive knock-on effect for midwifery."

"Some days may be sad or extremely difficult, but more often than not midwives are part of one of the most special moments of people's lives, and television programmes such as these bring the ups and downs of life as a midwife into viewers' minds."

Charlotte Milligan is currently studying to be a midwife at the University of Wolverhampton – something she says she has wanted to do for many years.

The 18-year-old, from Featherstone said shows such as Call the Midwife, can be valuable in her studies by providing alternative insights into the profession.

"I think programmes do trigger an interest," she said. "It encourages people to find out about the industry. I watch them because I'm happy watching anything to do with midwifery."

Hospital station is still in rude health

HOSPITAL patients may be unwell, but, for ones at Stafford at least, their sense of humour remains in the best of health – as the most requested songs on the in-house radio station reveal.

Among them are Gloria Gaynor's I Will Survive, Engelbert's Please Release Me and The Animals' We Gotta Get Out Of This Place.

But music is just a bonus for listeners to the popular station which began broadcasting 41 years ago in a tiny 'studio' under the stage of the old hospital.

Station manager Andy Hill, aged 46, from Cheslyn Hay

Chris Tarrant opens the hospital radio studios in 1978

"Our main role is to provide a warm voice over the airwaves and a friendly face on the wards as we go round collecting requests for songs – the music is an extra," says Andy Hill, the radio station's manager.

"Many patients don't have family or friends that visit them, and being in hospital is a time when most people are at their lowest. Hopefully we cheer them up, that's the aim."

The station, which also broadcasts to Cannock Hospital and is about to transmit to Katharine House Hospice for the first time, has come a long way since its first broadcast in January 1972 which featured a good luck message from veteran DJ Jimmy Young.

Studios

Their control desk was a cast-off from the BBC and their record archive – all vinyl – was contained in a wardrobe.

Six years later, the station moved into a spacious new home in two purpose-built studios at the back of the new district general hospital where a large record library and engineering room were also installed.

The new studios were opened by Chris Tarrant, then the frontman for children's TV series Tiswas. Today, the station has 42 presenters, some of whom have been there from the start, including Alan Merrick and jazz show presenter Art Chatfield.

Many are students at home with the studio's hi-tech equipment, others are retired professionals with time on their hands and more fit in hospital radio stints around day jobs.

What's On!

Artists to sing for their supper

THREE talent show finalists will be back at the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock for a fundraising concert next month.

Grace Wyatt, Luke Groves and Victoria Tew all made the final of the Follow That Dream competition – organised by the Melanie Till Memorial Fund – at the Church Street venue last year.

They will take the stage again on Tuesday, March 19, for Singing For Their Supper, a charity concert in aid of NSPCC and Save The Children. As well as singing solos, they will join together to perform Leonard Cohen's 'Hallelujah'.

The line-up includes Cannock Chase High School's 'Pop Choir' and a solo performance from Year 13 pupil Sam Hilditch.

Ambient Night Productions, a youth theatre group who have previously benefited from sponsorship from Melanie's Fund, will be taking part on the night, while the quartet Medley will also be on the bill. The cast will be completed by Raise Your Voices, a young ladies' multi-genre singing group from Cannock.

Tickets for the 7.30pm show are £7 each with concessions at £5. Call the box office on 01543 578762 or Bryan Till on 01543 468070.

Holbrook at hotel

TICKETS are still available for an evening with Stephen Holbrook at the Ramada Hotel, Bridgtown, from 7.30pm on February 19. Cost is £17 from 01924 256542 or on the door.

Boogie Nights musical will be a feast of 70s nostalgia

JIMMY Osmond, and his brothers Jay and Merrill, will lead a disco-tastic tribute to the 1970s in Wolverhampton and Birmingham.

Joining them for the musical Boogie Nights will be Pop Idol and West End star Gareth Gates and, from The X

Dream will do nicely for fans

Keith Jack as Joseph

KEITH Jack came a close second in the TV search for a new Joseph, Any Dream Will Do.

But since 2011 he has established himself as a popular leading man in the touring production of Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd-Webber's Biblical musical.

Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat returns to Wolverhampton Grand Theatre from Tuesday to Saturday. Call the box office on 01902 429212.

Factor, cheeky Chico, Laura White and soul singing former binman Andy Abraham.

The jukebox musical will feature Shane Richie Junior in the role of rogueish disco fan Roddy, a jack the lad in a provincial British town, a character first played by his father, who helped create the show 15 years ago.

Survive

Gates plays a heart-throb, Abraham a tough soul singer with a liking for Barry White songs, and Chico will be showing his disco dance moves to Le Freak. As Debs, Louisa Lytton (EastEnders, The Bill and Strictly Come Dancing) will belt out such numbers as I Will Survive.

The three Osmond brothers will appear as special guests, and will perform their 70s hits Crazy Horses and Love Me For A Reason. Boogie Nights is at Wolverhampton Civic Hall (0870 3207000) tonight (Thursday) and tomorrow night (Fri), then will move to Symphony Hall (0121 780333) in Birmingham on Saturday night.

Actress Elizabeth McGovern as Lady Cora in Downton Abbey, left, and fronting her band Sadie and the Hotheads, who are coming to Birmingham and Worcester

Downton's Lady Cora is a rocker

AMERICAN star Elizabeth McGovern is famous for the role of Lady Cora in hit ITV costume drama Downton Abbey but she has another alter-ego, as lead singer and guitarist with rock band Sadie and the Hotheads.

The former Hollywood actress, who married an English director and moved to London in the 1990s, will bring her band to the Adrian Boulton Hall in Birmingham tomorrow night (Friday) and to Worcester's Huntingdon Hall on Saturday.

She said: "It's an Americana kind of sound, a mix of country and rock and roll. It's as if I needed to be in London to discover this side of myself."

The Hotheads sometimes also feature guests, which have included her on-screen Downton daughter, actress and singer Michelle Dockery.

Tickets cost £21 at Birmingham. Call 0121 3450600.

Home tribute to the Carpenters

A CANNOCK performer will star as Karen Carpenter in a tribute show in her home town.

Featuring Nicky Moran and her six-piece band, the Carpenters Tribute Show takes place at the Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, on Sunday, April 7 from 7.30pm.

The local theme is enhanced by supporting artists Michael Johns of Cannock and Cliff Thomas of Norton Canes.

The Carpenters, a 70s brother and sister duo made their name with a string of hits including We've Only Just Begun, Top of the World, Close To You, Yesterday Once More and Calling Occupants of Interplanetary Craft.

As well as authentic costumes, all musical arrangements have been recreated just as Richard Carpenter intended. Tickets are £15, with group discounts available from the box office on 01543 578762.

Colin Pheasant of Hednesford and Val Foster of Rawsley were chosen at random from the number of entries.

Rock band in gig

Patrick Robinson

BBC1, 9.10pm
Long-standing Casualty fans probably won't need to be reminded about Martin 'Ash' Ashford, but for newer viewers, he was Charlie's former deputy who worked on the wards of Holby between 1990 and 1998. Since leaving the show, actor Patrick Robinson has regularly cropped up on our screens – his credits include a two-year stint on The Bill – and it turns out his Casualty alter ego has been busy as well, because when Ash rejoins the team this evening, it's as a fully qualified doctor. But how will he feel when he discovers his first patient has a case of rabies?

The Oscars may be more in-your-face, but when it comes to understated glamour with a classy edge, the British Academy Film Awards – or Baftas, to you and me – win hands down. Stephen Fry hosts this year's event from London's Royal Opera House in Covent Garden. The only man who knows for sure that he'll be adding one of the trophies to his mantelpiece is Alan Parker. The director is the latest film-maker to be awarded a Bafta fellowship. As for the rest of the evening's awards, Lincoln leads the way with 10 nominations.

Film Choices

MONDAY

Thirteen Days, BBC1, 12.20am

Fact-based drama covering the events of the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, when the US and Soviet Union confronted each other with nuclear arsenals primed. An American spy plane observes the Russians installing ballistic missiles in Cuba – and over the next 13 days mind games are played out in Washington amid unbearable tension, as President Kennedy comes into conflict with the warmongering military. Starring Kevin Costner, Bruce Greenwood and Steven Culp. (2000)

TUESDAY

The Hand That Rocks the Cradle, BBC1, 11.25pm

A doctor is caught molesting a patient and commits suicide, after which his wife has a miscarriage. She blames his victim for her losses and plans to get revenge, infiltrating the unsuspecting woman's house as a nanny and playing twisted mind games to destroy her life. Thriller, starring Rebecca De Mornay, Annabella Sciorra, Julianne Moore and Ernie Hudson. (1992)

City by the Sea, Wednesday, BBC1, 11.35pm

WEDNESDAY

City by the Sea, BBC1, 11.35pm

A respected New York homicide detective is torn between family ties and official duty when the murder of a drug dealer is blamed on his estranged son. Struggling to come to terms with his offspring's troubled past, he also faces another battle to prevent his grandson following in his father's footsteps and choosing a life of crime. Drama, with Robert De Niro, Frances McDormand, James Franco and Eliza Dushku. (2002)

THURSDAY

The Matrix Revolutions, Channel 5, 10pm

As the survivors of the human race make their last stand against the machines, freedom fighters Neo and Trinity undertake a desperate journey into the heart of the enemy stronghold seeking a way to end the war, while the rogue computer programme Smith sets about remaking the virtual world of the Matrix in his own image. Conclusion of the sci-fi trilogy, starring Keanu Reeves, Carrie-Anne Moss, Laurence Fishburne and Hugo Weaving. (2003)

FRIDAY

The Last Boy Scout, ITV, 10.35pm

A private eye half-heartedly takes a job as bodyguard to a nightclub dancer. A shocking attack, however, forces him to take his duties more seriously, and before long he uncovers evidence of murder and corruption – all linked to the world of American football. Action thriller, starring Bruce Willis, Damon Wayans, Chelsea Field, Halle Berry and Noble Willingham. (1991)

Pick of the Week

Celebrating the best of the big-screen offerings

The Oscars may be more in-your-face, but when it comes to understated glamour it's the British Academy Film Awards – or Baftas, to you and us – win hands down.

We're now well into the awards season, with the National Television, Golden Globes and Screen Actors having already happened; the aforementioned Oscars are just around the corner too.

But for now, it's London's Royal Opera House in Covent Garden that grabs our attention. That's where Stephen Fry will be hosting the 66th Bafta ceremony from, surrounded by A-listers from across the globe who gaze at him in awe while wondering if they will be taking home one of the coveted Bafta masks.

"Hard as it may be for some characteristically sceptical Britons to believe, the Baftas have real kudos, reputation and cachet all over the world of film-making," says Fry, "I, old as I am, never cease to be shamelessly glorified by the sight of so many legendary names who come every year as nominees and presenters."

The only man who knows for sure that he'll be adding one of the famous trophies to the mantelpiece is Alan Parker. The advertising copywriter-turned-Oscar-nominated director has a string of big-screen successes under his belt, including Midnight Express, Fame, Mississippi Burning, Bugsy Malone and Evita – he's also the latest film-maker to be awarded a Bafta fellowship, following in the footsteps of the likes of Alfred Hitchcock, Steven Spielberg and last year's recipient, Martin Scorsese.

John Willis, chairman of the Academy, says: "Sir Alan Parker is a hugely distinctive film-maker, and a man of uncompromising vision and personality. He has made an immense contribution to the British film industry, receiving a wide range of critical and public acclaim for his writing, producing and directing across almost 40 years of film-making."

"It's almost impossible to highlight any one moment of his career, but the incredible 19 Baftas his films have won indicate the esteem in which he is held by his peers, as well as the outstanding nature of his work."

"I'm delighted that the Academy has taken this opportunity to recognise Sir Alan with the Fellowship this year."

As for the man himself: "When you make your first film, you're sure it will be your last. And then you squeeze your eyes together and suddenly, 40 years later, you're at Bafta getting an award like this. I'm of course enormously flattered and honoured."

As for the rest of the evening's awards, Lincoln leads the way with 10 nominations, followed by Les Misérables and Life of Pi with nine.

In any other year, Hugh Jackman would be a shoe-in for Best Actor for Les Mis, but it would be a surprise if Daniel Day-Lewis didn't beat him to it for his extraordinary turn in Spielberg's biopic of the 14th US president.

Best Actress is far more open, with Jennifer Lawrence (Silver Linings Playbook), Emmanuelle Béart (Amour) and Jessica Chastain (Zero Dark Thirty) all in with a good chance.

Don't bet against the likes of Skyfall (eight nods), Argo (seven) or Anna Karenina (six) doing well either.

It should be an interesting night.

Stephen Fry hosts The British Academy Film Awards, Sunday, BBC1, 9pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY

Food &amp; Drink

BBC2, 8.30pm

Recently we found out how Mary Berry went from being a slightly posh, polio-stricken Bath schoolgirl to much-loved culinary queen in the two-part documentary The Mary Berry Story. Here she's back doing what she does best – demonstrating how to prepare something simply, but well. Mary will be helping presenters Michel Roux and Kate Goodman create the perfect afternoon tea. Food writer William Sitwell is also on hand, making the claim that sliced white bread is the best thing since, well, sliced white bread, and Rachel Khoo, of The Little Paris Kitchen fame, is in the French capital to explain why traditional pâtisseries are so special.

Black Mirror

Channel 4, 10pm

Series one of Charlie Brooker's Twilight Zone-style strand aired in 2011, and won the Best TV movie/mini-series award at the International Emmys, and a Golden Rose for Best Comedy at the Rose d'Or Television Festival. Season two also looks like must-see TV. The opener centres on young couple Martha (Hayley Atwell) and Ash (Domhnall Gleeson), who move to a remote cottage. He's obsessed with social media, so when Ash tragically dies, a new service capable of using his digital footprint as a basis for further communication gives Martha a chance to continue their relationship. However, problems arise when Ash is recreated in physical form.

TUESDAY

Alex Polizzi: The Fixer

BBC2, 8pm

As a member of the renowned Forte dynasty, Alex Polizzi knows a thing or two about what it takes to keep a family business going, and she's ready to pass on that hard-won wisdom in the second series of The Fixer. Over the next few weeks, she'll be turning her expert eye on everything from a beauty salon in Essex to an undertakers in Hampshire, but she starts with East London interiors shop Alf Onnie's, which specialises in fabrics and curtains. The business was established by the siblings' grandfather in the 1920s, but has recently been struggling as the recession and the housing-slump have taken their toll. However, Alex believes the shop's woes can't all be blamed on the economic climate...

Dallas

Channel 5, 9pm

Could foul play be involved in Tommy's disappearance? Christopher (Jesse Metcalfe) thinks so and is desperate to connect Pamela (Julie Gonzalo) to the crime, while she is doing her best to gain control of Ewing Energies. Meanwhile, JR (Larry Hagman) and John Ross (Josh Henderson) will do anything to reclaim their birthright, even if it means turning one family member against another. When a new member of the family turns up at Southfork, Ryland's sadistic games push Ann to the brink.

WEDNESDAY

From the Heart

ITV, 9pm

Strip away all the hullabaloo of Valentine's Day, and the leading lights at ITV are keen to get us thinking about something much more important this week – the benefits of organ donation. Dermot O'Leary hosts this one-off special raising awareness of the NHS Organ Donor Register, and he's roped in a few familiar faces to help him. So step forward Rowan Atkinson, Hugh Laurie, Pixie Lott, Harry Enfield, Paul Whitehouse and some of the cast from Outnumbered with comedy and musical offerings. Plus, Jools Holland and his Rhythm and Blues orchestra, McFly and Alexandra Burke perform.

THURSDAY

EastEnders

BBC1, 7.30pm

It's Valentine's Day, and Walford's cutest couple, Abi and Jay, decide to mark the occasion by taking their relationship to the next level. However, the chances of anyone else enjoying a nice, romantic evening are looking pretty slim. Bianca certainly has bigger things than love on her mind as she frogmarches Liam to school, telling him that until he stops playing truant, he's grounded. If that wasn't stressful enough, she then discovers that the reason the stock she and Kat have been selling on their stall is so cheap is because it's stolen.

Hugh's Fish Fight

Channel 4, 9pm

Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall is back for a new series, but what's that got to do with the price of fish? Well, funny enough, quite a bit actually, and a lot more besides. The chef's made no secret of the fact he wants to do his bit to save our seas, but now his plan is stepping up a gear. With two thirds of the planet's fish stocks overfished, and a fifth of the world's stocks collapsing all together, Hugh wants to persuade governments around the world to set up more marine protected areas. In this first instalment, Hugh heads to the Philippines and investigates how local fishermen dynamite fish, a practice that is destroying fish stocks.

FRIDAY

Sea City

BBC2, 8.30pm

We are an island nation and as such have relied upon the sea for sustenance and transport since time immemorial. These days, our shipbuilding and fishing industries may have declined substantially, but there are still a good many people who make a living on or by the ocean's waves. In this new series, somewhat unexpectedly voiced by John 'Nasty Nick' Altman, we're given a glimpse into the lives of the men and women of Southampton Port – the people who really are keeping Britain afloat, by dealing with over a million cruise passengers and 40 million tons of cargo annually.

Hugh's Fish Fight, Thursday, Channel 4, 9pm

Make the move with developer's scheme

The NewBuy scheme with Miller Homes is helping people to secure houses

POTENTIAL homebuyers in the market for a new build property can now take advantage of an additional incentive from Miller Homes West Midlands, after the leading home builder announced it would be offering 95 per cent mortgages with its Home Exchange scheme.

This means that those interested in a Miller home, but who need to sell their existing property first, would have a guaranteed buyer through Miller Homes and only need a five per cent deposit to purchase their new home using government-backed incentive scheme NewBuy.

Chris Endors, chief executive of Miller Homes, said: "We are delighted to be able to offer Home Exchange, our part exchange scheme, with the 95 per cent mortgage scheme NewBuy. "With many second purchasers facing negative equity and unable to move because they will only have a small deposit or cannot sell their home, this enhanced incentive will provide a realistic chance of them being able to move further up the property ladder. We view this as a positive step towards boosting the market at all levels."

NewBuy enables those who meet the qualifying criteria to purchase a new build property with as little as a five per cent deposit. Lenders participating in the scheme will offer up to a 95 per cent mortgage on homes up to the value of £500,000.

With Miller Homes' Home Exchange scheme, the house builder will purchase 100 per cent of the value of the buyer's property based upon an independent RICS valuation, providing a guaranteed buyer and removing the hassle of selling and uncertainties which come with it.

Stewart Baseley, executive chairman of the HBF, said: "We know there is a huge pent up demand for home ownership after years when large deposit requirements have prevented many people from buying their first home or trading up to a larger home."

"NewBuy means people can buy a new home with a five per cent deposit and is now a real option for those who thought they couldn't get on to the property ladder. "Allowing people to part exchange their existing homes and buy a new one using NewBuy will also be a huge boost for those families stuck in their existing homes, unable to sell and without the required deposit to move."

Construction

"Over the coming years, NewBuy will make a real difference and help tens of thousands of people realise their ambition of home ownership."

"In turn, this will then help kick-start new home construction, creating economic growth and thousands of jobs across the country."

The combined Home Exchange and NewBuy offer is available on specific plots at all Miller Homes developments across the West Midlands, including Littleton Green in Huntingdon, Pippins Croft in Quedgeley and The Willows in Stone.

To find out more, contact one of the developments, details of which can be found at www.millerhomes.co.uk.

Number 240 Ironstone Road is located in Burntwood and on the market for £244,950 with agent Mark Price

Three-bed family home with garage

MARK Price independent estate agents is handling the sale of 240 Ironstone Road, situated in Chase Terrace, Burntwood.

On the market for £244,950, this well-presented property is approached by a block pave driveway.

An entrance porch, having a sealed unit double glazed front entrance door, sealed unit double glazed windows and ceramic tiled floor, leads to the hall.

A lounge has bow window, three wall light points, wooden fire surround with flame-effect gas fire and marble hearth with back, two double panel radiators and double multi-paned doors to the dining room.

From the dining room, access is gained to a conservatory. This has double doors to the rear garden, radiator, two wall light points, ceramic tiled floor and ceiling light/fan.

The kitchen is fitted with a range of base, drawer and wall-mounted units incorporating a one-and-a-half bowl stainless steel sink top with mixer tap, round-edge work surfaces, space for a gas range/cooker, stainless steel back plate and stainless steel cooker hood above, shelf for microwave, plumbing for a dishwasher, ceramic tiled splashbacks, midway lighting, sealed unit double glazed rear window and oak floor.

Ceramic

There is a utility having windows to the side and rear, sealed unit double glazed side door, base and wall-mounted units, round-edge work surface, ceramic tiled splashbacks, ceramic tiled floor, plumbing for automatic washing machine, space and vent for a tumble dryer, radiator and wall-mounted central heating boiler. A cloakroom is fitted with a low-level WC, hand basin, ceramic tiled splashbacks and ceramic tiled floor.

Bedroom one has two front windows, radiator and TV aerial socket. Its en suite is fitted with a white suite incorporating a corner shower cubicle with mains shower, hand basin with vanity unit beneath, low-level WC, full ceramic wall tiling, ceramic floor, heated towel radiator and extractor fan.

Bedroom two has telephone point plus fitted wardrobes with hanging rail and shelving, dado rail and telephone point. A third has fitted bedroom furniture with wardrobes, corner shelving and chest of drawers. The fourth has telephone point. In the family bathroom is a fitted matching suite incorporating a corner bath with mixer tap, shower, pedestal handbasin, low-level WC, fully tiled shower cubicle, ceramic tiled splashbacks, inset ceiling spotlights and sealed unit double glazed rear window.

Fencing

An integral garage has up-and-over door, light and power points, cold water tap and door to the utility.

To the front of the property is a double width brick paved drive giving parking for several cars. A gate at the side gives access to the rear garden which is enclosed by fencing and has a paved patio area with exterior lighting, cold water tap and steps up to a bordered lawn with a pond, rockery and shed. Call 01543 677776 to arrange a viewing.

Sporty buzz with Mokka and Antara

The Vauxhall Antara has alloy-wheels, roof rails and protective skid plates

BRISTOL Street Motors, is inspiring motorists in Lichfield to embrace the spirit of adventure this year, with a little help from Vauxhall's range of sports utility vehicles (SUV's).

The dealership on Eastern Avenue is proud to offer two SUVs within the manufacturer's extensive product range, the Vauxhall Antara and all new Mokka.

The sturdy, intelligent and powerful Antara combines elegance with practicality and is ideal for those who love to explore new territories. Ready for the active life, the tough yet sophisticated SUV brings together genuine driving excitement and innovative versatility.

Meanwhile, complementing Vauxhall's offering is one of the latest additions to the Vauxhall range; the stunning new Mokka. Offering bold and expressive design alongside advanced driving dynamics and technology, this stylish and versatile five-seater is perfect for those who enjoy an active lifestyle.

Jamie Knaggs, retail operator at Bristol Street Motors, said: "The start of a new year brings opportunities for great adventure, new experiences and a sense of excitement about what lies ahead. With this comprehensive SUV offering, we are keen to inspire members of our community to get out and about in 2013."

Elegant lines and design practicality are enjoyed by Antara drivers who will also benefit from a wealth of features and technologies to ensure a smooth, safe and responsive ride.

Premium

The interior is full of light and space and comes with high quality trims, premium finishes and top-of-the-range levels of kit.

The new front-wheel drive (FWD) model and innovative all-wheel drive (AWD) system both deliver control and improved all-round efficiency.

The Antara, priced from £19,515 on-the-road, is available in a choice of three trims – Exclusiv, Diamond and SE Nav – and comes with a choice of petrol or two diesel engines. A recent addition to the Vauxhall line-up and available to test drive and order from Bristol Street Motors now, the Mokka has been fully designed with active lifestyles in mind. The versatile vehicle comes with a choice of both front-wheel drive and all-wheel drive variants, performing efficiently in urban environments and with four-wheel drive models having the ability to be driven off-road when the need arises.

The Mokka is also designed to appeal to technology-savvy customers, who class safety and comfort as key priorities, with a host of technologies unique to the segment including ergonomic premium seats (standard on SE Nav model), optional front camera system functions and Adaptive Forward Lighting (APL). Priced from £15,995 on-the-road and available in three trims – Exclusiv, Tech Line and SE.

Powerful new hybrid has got the edge over its rivals

By John Griffiths

IN the last 10 years or so diesel engines have become so smooth and powerful, as well as fuel efficient, that they have begun to overshadow their petrol counterparts.

Now there's an alternative capable of putting a smile on drivers' faces while reducing their running costs and their tax bills at the same time.

An innovative petrol-electric hybrid from luxury car maker Infiniti outperforms its petrol stablemate and returns more miles per gallon than the diesel.

Factor in the 5p per litre or so petrol/diesel price differential and a family hatchback CO2 emissions rating and it certainly seems like Infiniti is on to a winner.

The car's name, the M35h, doesn't exactly trip off the tongue but here is a car to rival the big name Mercedes-Benz E Class or BMW 5 Series, which can do the 0 to 62mph dash in a sporting 5.5 seconds (one of the quickest hybrids) and average nearly 41mpg.

Its CO2 emissions rating is 159g/km, which is certainly low by executive car standards and will mean savings on Vehicle Excise Duty and company car tax for many drivers.

There are two trim grades, GT and GT Premium, and when you factor in a high specification which includes all the latest bells and whistles its starting price of £42,000 makes it a serious competitor for conventional rivals.

There are a couple of little tricks I particularly liked. The Infiniti has the world's first computer-controlled sound system to warn pedestrians of its approach under otherwise silent electric running. There's also an innovative blind spot warning system which is a boon on busy dual carriageways and motorways. Electrifyingly apart, the M35h is every inch the executive express. It is powered by a 3.5 litre V6 engine and an electric motor with a combined output of 359bhp, driving the rear wheels through a super smooth seven speed automatic transmission. The combination even gives it the edge over Porsche's Panamera hybrid.

Handling

It seems able to combine the soft ride of the Mercedes E-Class with the sharper handling of its BMW rival.

And it is particularly quiet. There is little aerodynamic or road noise, and it runs on virtually silent electric power alone perhaps more than any other current hybrid.

On a busy 40mph dual carriageway the M35h seemed to be running on electric only most of the time—the petrol engine assisting only on acceleration away from traffic lights.

And then it's only obvious because when the engine is decoupled, the rev counter falls to zero: when running the petrol motor rarely rises above a whisper.

The car's batteries (which also power the started motor for the smooth transition) are recharged during braking and acceleration as well as a conventional system, which is clearly particularly quick and efficient judging by the power reserves available. The car can then run on electric alone (up to 62mph), on petrol or a combination of both.

For the driver and passenger, the M35h is a everything you'd expect of a prestige motor car. Its leather seats are both heated and ventilated, with multiple electrical adjustment to help you find the perfect position. There's even a heated steering wheel for those frosty mornings.

Each gets their own little comfort zone, as they are separated by a centre console resembling an aircraft control panel with a colour screen and enough switches and dials to satisfy any gadget lover.

The higher spec model, the GT Premium, has a few technological extras including the blind spot warning system and an 'intelligent' cruise control system to help you maintain a safe gap from the car in front. There's also a lane departure warning system, satellite navigation and an upgraded 'Forest air' climate control system.

The finish and materials give an impressive of quality and craftsmanship.

The rear seats three adults in comfort, although the one drawback (particularly in the hybrid with its battery pack) is the boot space. It's still over 400 litres, but a bit behind some of its big name rivals.

Infiniti is a relative newcomer to the prestige car market, but it has plenty of experience from its sister company Nissan and associate Renault to draw on. That's perhaps why it has managed to match the big names in this sector with a high performance, luxurious saloon. And with the M35h it also has a technological edge to please the executive and frustrate the taxman.

Bumper to bumper

Seven-figure deal sealed by Keltruck

Unidrug Distribution Group, of South Normanton, distributes approximately £3 billion of products across the UK a year.

The R445LA6x2/4 three-axle tractor units were supplied in a seven-figure deal through contract hire company Charthire. The history between Kel-truck, Charthire and UDG dates back over six years and has gone from strength to strength. Chris Spencer, managing director at Charthire, said: "We have operated Scania R114 Tractor units with this customer for the last six years and the combination of the Scania product, the local dealer and ourselves provides our customer with the service levels he desires."

Charthire was formed in November 2000 and have built up their business from a standing start to around 1000 vehicles and trailers in that time.

They specialize in commercial vehicle/trailer contract hire, truck and trailer rental and fleet and contract maintenance.

Depots

"UDG have received good service from Keltruck over the years, and this coupled with their close proximity to the UDG depots make servicing and defect rectification easy to manage," said UDG director of operations Mark Langton.

Keltruck in Kenrick Way, which was established in 1983, employs 460 people.

It is the largest privately-owned Scania dealer in the UK and, following the acquisition of Silurian Scania in 2011, it now operates from 21 locations across the Midlands and South Wales.

Peugeot's crossover is ahead of supermini field

PEUGEOT'S new 2008 supermini crossover is aiming to stay ahead of the market with a car the length of a supermini but almost the height of a compact SUV.

It will be 4.16m long; about 20cm longer than the 208 but still in supermini territory.

Few real details have been released, but the engine choices will include at least one sub-100g/km option for road tax-free motoring.

The new three-cylinder petrol engines debuted in the 208 will also see service.

Alloy wheels will be up to 17 inches in size, while the firm mentions 'mud and snow' tyres being available.

Style influences appear to come from the RCZ coupe in the shape of a flowing roof line.

The 2008 can't copy the RCZ's 'double bubble' roof due to the expense of such a design, but it does take some inspiration from its sporty cousin.

It is the first Peugeot to be designed across multiple market zones to cut costs, and near-identical cars will be built in France, China and Brazil to cope with demand on their respective continents.

The 2008 will make its world debut at the Geneva Motor Show in March, before the order books open in June and the car arrives in showrooms later in the summer.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer.

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with its Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.

Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Cannock Chase's Local Plan is coming soon...

Cannock Chase Council will be publishing its Local Plan (referred to as the Local Plan (Part 1) Proposed Submission 2013) on 14th February 2013.

The Local Plan aims to guide development within Cannock Chase District over future years. The plan will help to shape the way in which the physical, economic, social and environmental characteristics of the District will change by 2028.

It includes housing, employment and retail development, transport, health and recreation, the natural and historic environments and more.

By publishing the Local Plan the Council is offering further opportunities for local residents to comment on the proposal before it is submitted for examination by a Government Planning Inspector.

The consultation will commence at 9.00am on Thursday 14 February 2013 and run until 5.00pm on Thursday 28 March 2013.

The Local Plan and supporting documents will be made available on the Council's website www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/planningpolicy from 14 February 2013. Documents will also be available to view on request at the Council's main offices at the Civic Centre on Beccroft Road from the same date.

SPORT

Places on offer for up to 100 walkers

WE are now in week six of the training programme in preparation for the Action Heart five-mile run.

If you haven't already entered the February 24 event, act now!

Visit www.actionheartrunning.com and download an entry form, or you can enter online by visiting www.runbritain.com and searching for the event.

This year, Action Heart are also allocating up to 100 places for walkers. You will need to indicate on the form if you are a walker and a yellow race number will be sent in your race pack.

Walkers will set off on the five-mile course starting and ending at Russells Hall Hospital, Dudley at 9am with runners going at 9.30.

Action Heart is a registered charity based in Dudley committed to the rehabilitation of patients who have suffered a heart attack, undergone heart surgery or suffer from heart-related illness.

Schedule

Funds raised at this event will be used to develop the service provided at the Action Heart Centre at Russells Hall Hospital.

For those following the schedule, if you find you cannot get out for a run on one of the specific days then do not worry – it can be flexible. Take the rest day early – do not become obsessed with times and distances.

The course has some long uphill pulls and downhill stretches. Adjust your pace uphill to achieve the same energy output as on the flat rather than keep up your speed. Going downhill can be more difficult – again, adjust your speed and don't try to make up for lost time.

The training schedule for the coming week is aimed at building stamina. Remember, finishing is more important than your time.

Each runner who finishes will take away a T-shirt as a memento of the day.

Training: Week six

Monday: Rest
Tuesday: Three-mile jog
Wednesday: Two-mile run
Thursday: Rest
Friday: Three-mile jog
Saturday: Rest
Sunday: Five-mile run

It was a busy weekend for Cannock's assorted teams. Left, seconds captain Steve Mallows on the ball; middle and right, under-18 players Gurpal Mann and Jheevan Dhandha

Emphatic home win puts firsts into semis

Cannock 4 Doncaster 1 CANNOCK firsts marched into the semi-finals of the English Hockey senior men's cup with an emphatic home win over Doncaster.

Cannock started briskly in Sunday's game and soon found the net through a Matt Plunkett strike.

Doncaster did manage a consolation goal, but by then the game was won.

Cannock 3 Manchester Brooklands 2
The previous day, Cannock firsts took on Manchester Brooklands in a friendly.

With several of the squad away on international duty, this was always going to be a tight game. Cannock prevailed with goals from Tom Morris, Will Hearne and Pete Jackson.

Cannock 4 Birmingham University 0
Cannock seconds maintained their 100 per cent record against a dogged Birmingham University side. All their goals came in the first half with Sandhar, Mallows, Jekettis and Degan the scorers.

Cannock 3 Southgate 6
The seconds were beaten in the quarter-finals of the Second XI English Hockey Cup by a well-drilled Southgate side.

Cannock opened the scoring through a Lewis Jekettis solo effort.

However, Southgate soon began to open up the Cannock defence and were

4-1 up at the break. In the second half, Cannock applied more pressure and they reduced the deficit through Ed Fleet and Chris Darnley.

A series of yellow cards saw Cannock reduced to nine men and Southgate seized the opportunity to score twice more.

Loughborough University 0 Cannock 5

Top-of-the-table Cannock thirds travelled to second-placed Loughborough and gave their best team display of the season.

Morris got the first half's only goal.

In the second period, Cannock soaked up the home attacks and replied with a series of devastating counters. Martin converted a reverse stick cross for the second and Wilkes made it three from a short corner.

A Morris solo dribble produced the fourth and Martin's back-post finish rounded off the scoring.

Cannock 2 Sutton Coldfield 1
The fourths underlined

Doncaster's keeper hurries back to his goal too late as Matt Plunkett nets for Cannock firsts in their cup victory their position at the top of the table with this victory.

Despite continued pressure, Cannock failed to provide the quality needed in front of goal and the half finished 0-0.

Nine minutes from time, a defensive error led to Sutton taking the lead. But Cannock levelled when Lawrence Perry placed a drag-flick in the roof of the net. And five minutes from time, Dave Wigg and George Southall combined to find Jeevan Dhandha in space and he clinically finished.

Olton & West Warwick 0 Cannock 6

Table-topping Cannock fifths picked up an expected victory at bottom side Olton.

A Darren Pugh brace and a Tom Bunn strike put them three up at half-time and Pugh completed his hat-trick in a second period which also saw goals for Liam Darrren and Gurpal Mann.

Cannock 4 Lichfield 0
Lichfield, beaten 14-1 by the firsts in the reverse fixture, showed plenty of resolve, but Cannock always looked the winners and took the spoils with goals from Joe Handley, Fergus Forsyth, Don Clark and Karl Owen.

Cannock 9 Stone 0

Seven first-half goals put the sixths in charge of this game. Goals came from Clark (3), Handley (3), Owen, Forsyth and Raffi Moscatiello.

Cannock Futures 5 Lichfield 1
Cannock were quickly off the mark and scored inside

the first two minutes through Alan Craddock.

Cannock went on to lead 3-0 with goals by Jake Bilson and Jordan Joiner before Lichfield got one back.

Cannock U18 8 Worcester U18 1

Cannock marched into the last eight of the English Hockey Cup with goals from Jack Middleton (4), George Myatt, Lewis Jowett, Matt Sanders and an own goal.

Rangers' Gladwin sets up winners

Junior football

AFC Cannock U9 2 Rugeley Rangers U9 4

A SOLID team performance saw Rangers hit back from a goal down to win.

AFC took an early lead against the run of play but Rugeley quickly equalised through Charlie Jessop after good work from Declan Hopwood.

Cannock regained the lead within a minute of the second half, but Rangers hit back through Hopwood.

AFC Lichfield U9 1 Rugeley Rangers Lions U9 5

Assists from Thomas Hurst and Billy Mackenzie helped Jake Poole bag a first-half hat-trick for Rangers.

Mackenzie himself got on the scoresheet in the second half and there was also a goal for Harry Smart as Rangers continued to press and play some decent football.

Lichfield's never-say-die attitude brought them a late consolation goal.

Hednesford United U13 Girls 7 Stafford Town U13 Girls 0

After a month without a game, Hednesford showed their strength and fitness to win this match.

An own goal summed up Stafford's luck.

Wryley Pumas U15 Girls 0 Hednesford United U15 Girls 0

Neither team could break the deadlock in a hard-fought game. Ellie Bilson was the Hednesford manager's player of the match while Emily Gray Davis won the opposition manager's award. The sides met again this weekend in a cup clash.

Hawkins Sports U11 6 Park Hill Boys U11 0

Neither team had played for a few weeks due to the weather and it showed in the first 15 minutes of this RN Crutcheley Cup quarter-final before Hawkins started to dominate.

Ben Osbourne put them in front and Alex Cribb added a second before half-time. Hawkins pressed hard in the second half with goals from Connor Farmer (2), Dan Larose and a Osbourne with a fine free-kick.

Lea Hall give CK Academy lesson in cup

Cannock Charity Cup Round Two
DIVISION TWO leaders CK Academy, with only one defeat, crashed out of the cup to Lea Hall.

Lea Hall, who had won only four games, fought back from a goal down to win 2-1. Dean Claythorn levelled before Josh Howells scored the winner.

Broomhill Albion needed extra time to knock out Winding Wheel from the league below them. Wayne Durnall and Paul Warren took the game to extra time where Asa Wright and Dave Hudson made the scoreline 4-2. Goals by Mike Colligan and Lee Taylor helped the Bridge to knock out Crystal Fountain 2-0. Fifth Division Jubilee knocked out Third Division Cannock & Rugeley 5-0.

Staffordshire Cup Quarter-Final
Harrison kept the Chase League flag flying by reaching the semis with a 2-1 win over Stafford side Dockey. Craig Hyden and John Smith scored for Harrison.

Premier League
Yates Sports climbed four places to fourth with a 4-1 win at Breton Town. Ryan Wilkins, Luke Holmes, Steve Jones and Grant Winwood scored. Belt Road beat

Red White & Blue 2-0 with a fine solo goal from Andy Tuck, who ran from his own half to score. A Tom Preece penalty sealed the points.

Division Three
A last-minute goal from Rugeley Rangers player-manager Andy Wharton gave them a 1-0 win over Yew Tree and pushed them up to third place. Ryan Coney made it 30 goals for the season with a double for TNT who beat Lea Hall United 2-1. Second-placed Trafalgar beat

Division One

Athletico Bridge beat bottom team Nags Head 7-2. The Cow beat Prairie Farm 3-0 and White Hart drew 1-1 with Hen House.

Pitmen pile on points in pursuit of top spot

Hednesford Town 3 Nantwich Town 0
HEDNESFORD TOWN continued their pursuit of Evo-Stik Northern Premier Division leaders North Ferriby United with a comfortable win.

Nantwich hardly threatened once Ben Bailey had opened the scoring after just 90 seconds. The Pitmen, looking to build on their previous league result, an outstanding 4-0 victory over Workop Town on January 12, played well within themselves throughout the majority of Saturday's game.

The imperious Dave MacPherson formed an industrious engine room in the Hednesford midfield and, especially in the first half, the former Nantwich player haunted his old side with an all-action performance.

The midfielder set up a flowing Hednesford move on seven minutes with a typically crunching tackle before Jon Brain saved at full stretch from Elliott Durrell.

Three minutes later, Darren Campion's teasing cross from the left was headed just over the bar by Aaron Rey when the striker should really have scored.

Bounce
Hednesford always looked likely to win the match and, once Durrell capitalised on lax defending to smash a half-volley into the corner on 31 minutes, the result was never in question.

Nantwich will undoubtedly be frustrated at the fact their backline allowed Jamey Osborne's long throw to bounce no fewer than three times in the area before Durrell pounced on the loose ball.

The hard-working Michael Lennon, also playing against his former club, should have scored when he broke clear of the defence on 40 minutes and glided past the goalkeeper but hesitated and eventually saw his chance snuffed out.

Hednesford Town

Nantwich's sole opportunity came when Simon Everall hit the outside of the post from close range just before the hour.

But Lennon, always a willing runner, could have wrapped the game up on two occasions with Brain twice making top-quality saves to deny the Pitmen striker.

The result was confirmed when a Durrell free-kick evaded everyone but Sam Barnes, who tapped in from close range on 70 minutes.

The Keys Park faithful were able to relax in the knowledge that their team had done what was needed.

North Ferriby ran out 3-1 winners against Grantham Town, so the gap between the leaders and Rob Smith's side still stands at four points although the Pitmen have two games in hand.

Eight-goal thriller ends with place in the semis

HEDNESFORD TOWN moved into the semi-finals of the Birmingham Senior Cup in an exciting eight-goal game.

Following an even opening on Tuesday, it was Hednesford who took the lead in the 20th minute as the returning Francino Francis headed home from a corner.

Two minutes later the visitors were level as Francis was adjudged to have fouled Joe Wright in the area and Ryan Edmunds stepped up to convert the penalty. Alvechurch went into the break 2-1 up as Jazz Luckie headed home unchallenged after 31 minutes.

Town were now on top and they retook the lead on the hour mark with Francis grabbing his second goal of the evening after Neil Harvey's downward header was palmed away.

But in the 64th minute the visitors were level as the ball ricocheted off Tristan Dunkley and into the net despite Darren

Rugeley battle to end for victory

Rugeley 27 Essington 15
RUGELEY seconds took victory in a well-fought game.

Essington, after two consecutive defeats, were quickly out of the blocks and within the first seven minutes kicked a penalty to lead 3-0.

Rugeley responded with an impressive rolling maul which resulted in a try under the posts for Dave Bagnall.

Again the home side put together impressive forward play with second row Greg Archer also crossing under the posts for a try converted by Bagnall.

He stretched the advantage early in the second half when he ran in from 30 metres to make it 17-3.

But over the next 30 minutes, Essington put together some fine forward and defensive play to close the gap to two points with eight minutes to play.

The visitors were pounding the home team's defence, but stout resistance eventually forced Essington mistakes.

Rugeley took advantage when Baz Newton kicked a penalty to ease the gap out to five points.

Rugeley had the game wrapped up in the dying moments, but underlined the win when Scott Chedgoy ran in another try and scrum-half Sam Cotter converted to make it 27-15.

Chedgoy said: "The boys played a great game of rugby today under a lot of pressure."

Defeat that is far from Academic

CANNOCK CHASE Division Two leaders CK Academy, with only one defeat, crashed out of the Charity Cup to Lea Hall.

Academy had suffered only one league defeat this season.

Broomhill Albion just about managed to avoid another surprise result.

They eventually got through 4-2 against Winding Wheel from the division below them.

But Albion were taken to extra time.

Matt Siston scores a try for Burntwood

Bonus point for five-try Burntwood

AFTER two weeks of inactivity, Burntwood returned to action with one of their best performances of the season to earn a rare bonus-point victory in Midlands Three West (North).

Their enterprising play produced only one first-half try, but the rewards came after the turnaround with a further four.

The only try of the first period came after just four minutes. Possession was moved left then right before Brett Taylor made an incisive break to set Az Dune't away on a run round behind the posts for a score which he also converted. A solid Burntwood scrum on 12 minutes set the back row in motion with

Eccleshall 10 Burntwood 34

Jack Neal and Hal Gozukucuk combining to send Lloyd Shelley on a 20-metre run. Eccleshall had a try disallowed for a foot in touch.

The half ended with another promising Burntwood attack with forwards and backs linking to cover half the length of the pitch to reach the home five-metre line. But a penalty cost them a score. Five minutes into the second half, the lead was extended to 17 points when Dune't kicked a penalty goal.

Then, Matt Siston and Shelley exchanged passes for the former to show commendable strength in the tackle to break through for a try converted by Dune't.

The home side suffered a killer blow when Burntwood turned over possession in the tackle. Taylor hacked downfield, gathered and fed Nick Peplow who spun out of the full-back's tackle to score. Dune't converted.

Five minutes later Burntwood secured the bonus-point try when county U20s hooker Luke Rookyard burst down the blind side of a ruck from 20 metres to score.

A sequence of passes from Eccleshall produced two tries in three minutes.

Rustiness and red card seen in draw

Heath Hayes 1 Westfields 1

HEATH HAYES, playing their first Midland Alliance game since December 8, came from behind to earn a point despite being reduced to 10 men with half-an-hour left.

Debutant Callum Smallman was dismissed for dissent on Saturday with the teams locked at 1-1.

Tom Green went close early on for the home side with a rasping 25-yard drive that skimmed the crossbar, but it was the visitors who were generally in the ascendency.

Their pressure was rewarded on 23 minutes when debutant Josh Hunt fired home the loose ball after keeper Adam Braddock had done well to save from Jamie Cuss.

Flanks

As the half wore on, the home side shook off their rustiness.

Smallman had a part in the equaliser, winning an important tackle on the edge of his own box which allowed Lee Smith to advance 25 yards with the ball. He then released a fine pass to Dave Waple, who finished superbly.

After Smallman's red card, Westfields took advantage of the extra man with some penetrating play down the flanks.

But the Hayes defence, with Ben Maddox and Tom Baggott outstanding, were equal to the task.

Hayes have been left with a massive fixture backlog after seeing 13 consecutive matches postponed. They tried to make inroads on Tuesday, when they were due to host Rochester, but suffered yet another call-off.

CHASETOWN BEAT ELEMENTS TO WIN

Chasetown 3 Romulus 2

CHASETOWN took a valuable win - but the teams on the field had to thank two other teams that the game even went ahead.

With morning snow, afternoon blizzards and heavy rain throughout the first half, the ground staff need to be commended for the pitch being playable, writes Paul Mullins.

Secondly, the team of match officials, and referee Mr Howson in particular, gave Tuesday's game every chance, despite the odd occasion when the ball did slow considerably on wet and muddier areas of the playing surface.

Chasetown's lowest league attendance of the season did see a cracking game given the strong winds and rain of the first half with The Scholars deserving winners against a Romulus side struggling near the base of the Evo-Stik North Division One South table.

The visitors took the lead in the 16th minute. Tyrone Amory, who was a late replacement for the originally named No.9 Graham Deakin, found himself space and zipped a low shot across the greasy surface inside Matt Sargeant's post.

Drove

Chasetown were backed by a strong wind and were struggling to keep their passing precise but drew level just after the half-hour.

The Robinson drove into the penalty area and his low shot beat Lewis Exall to his right - Robinson's fifth league goal of the campaign, in just 10 starts.

A neat back-heel from Joel Purkiss set up Nick Wellecome, who was denied by a brilliant diving save from Exall.

With the first half ending, Sargeant did well to keep out a long-range effort from Rom's Luke Keen and hold on to a slippery ball.

Chasetown's Tesfa Robinson went off injured at half-time to be replaced by Mark Branch.

Purkiss, who was harshly sent off at the weekend after a bright debut, marked his home debut with a thunderous 20-yard effort which left Exall grasping at thin air.

Wellecome and Purkiss combined with a chipped cross from the Chasetown No.9 which Purkiss stretched to head down, but only managed to clear the crossbar from close range.

The home side extended their lead a minute after Jono Gould came on as substitute for Purkiss. Gould cut into the penalty area from the left and drove a fierce shot inside the left-hand post for his first senior goal for the Scholars.

Simon Brown flashed a chance just wide of the upright as Chasetown tried to see the game out, but the visitors reduced the arrears eight minutes from the end when Liam Francis netted.

Missed chances and marching orders in defeat

In fact, Chasetown had the better of the opening half of the Evo-Stik North Division One South fixture on Saturday. But they conceded the opening goal before controversy took over and left the Scholars with a mountain to climb.

Debutant signing striker Joel Purkiss almost had a dream start when a cheeky chip eluded home keeper Aaron Chapman but just cleared the crossbar. In the 11th minute, the visitors had a golden opportunity to score, but the unmarked Theo Robinson headed over the bar from six yards. Then a succession of goal attempts led to Shaun Tuton scoring from close in.

Six minutes before the break, the game took a dramatic twist. Purkiss and Belper full-back Aaron Pride jostled one another after the Belper keeper had cleared the ball but the linesman insisted Purkiss had tried to punch his opponent and the new-boy was given his marching orders.

At the start of the second half, Chasetown had concerted pressure but the comeback was rocked in the 68th minute when skipper Richard Teesdale misjudged a headed clearance and pulled back the attacker. He got a red card but Chasetown did not expect the penalty award, which Jon Froggatt converted. Aaron Pride sealed it for Belper.
